Fort Wayne made it three victories out of four games played with the Springfielders by landing Saturday's and Sunday's games without any particular effort. Guese was at his best Saturday and after scoring one run in the first inning, not another visitor reached home, while the Hoosiers chalked up seven runs. Four hits were made off "Whitey."

There were more than 1,000 people at the park yesterday to see the final game of the series. Fred Wienig, Glasscock's new twirler, was in the box and pitted against him was Wolf, the young man who twirled the game Fort Wayne lost last Thursday. Wienig did not have the best of control, especially when the catcher stood back, but with Bergen up behind the bat he generally settled down and the result was only three bases on balls and four strike-outs. The three men who walked all scored. Seven hits were made by the Springfielders, but two of these came in the fourth after Tim Flood had missed a chance to make an easy double play. Wolf was not as effective as in the game he pitched last week and at no time did it appear that the Hoosiers might lose, except at the end of the first half of the fourth inning, when four Governors trickled over the plate. In the second half, however, Fort Wayne scored six runs and "cinched" the game. Here is the score:

TOLEDO'S WAIL.

The Toledo Bee, in a long wail about Toledo's standing in the Interstate league, prints the following: "When the last game of the present season is played Toledo patrons will probably have seen the last of the Interstate league. Manager Strobel is in a position where he can withdraw and undoubtedly will do so. The reason for this is very obvious. Toledo is now the mainstay in a league that wouldn't have lasted past the Fourth of July without the Toledo gate money. In spite of this fact, there has always been a disposition on the part of certain peanut managers and eight-dollar-a-week 'journalists' to give the 'golden goose' the gash that would separate it from its wind."

These assertions are the merest rot

and drivel. Toledo may have been the mainstay of the Interstate league in seasons gone by, but in 1899 it was no better than Fort Wayne and as between the two young Mr. Strobel admitted while here that Fort Wayne was drawing better than Toledo. Although Fort Wayne played a Sunday game in Toledo and the Mud Hens played none here, Fort Wayne paid to Mr. Strobel much more money than he gave to Fort Wayne. Toledo is a good base ball city for the Interstate and as long as he stays in the league that long will Mr. Strobel prosper, but if he ever attempts to trot in the same league with Comiskey, Mack, Manning, Loftus, Vandebek and Golt he will wish himself back in his little "gold mine" league. Never mind about Strobel. He is smart and won't kill the goose that lays the golden egg. And the writer of the Bee article, because he secures probably $11 a week, takes a fling at the reporters in the smaller cities. Everyone of whom knows more about the game than the Bee man could guess in a year. The Bee article has all the ear marks of having been written by the society editors.

BATTING AVERAGES.

There was considerable change in the batting averages of the Fort Wayne players during the past week. Babb fell down woefully and is now only thirteen points over the .300 mark. Glasscock dropped two points. Tom Letcher dropped two and "Doggie" Miller gained one. Tim Flood fell five points, while Belden and "Whitey" Guese made the biggest gains. If Belden keeps up the pace another week he will have a standing about equal to that of Tim Flood. Gillen gained sixteen points. Here are the averages for the season:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

The Fort Waynes went to Youngstown over the Nickel Plate last night and will today begin a series of four games in three days. The game to-day is a postponed game. Toledo is playing in New Castle and Mansfield has Springfield as opponents.

Jeas Burkett made seven hits in the two games played in St. Louis yesterday.

Bob Gilks left Fort Wayne intending to win five straight from Dayton. Instead he lost two of the five.

Torreyson lost nothing by transferring the games from Springfield to Fort Wayne. He carried away $330.

Belden, after a fast and long sprint, dropped a short fly in the ninth inning yesterday after two were out. The next man was an easy out and Belden's error cost nothing.

"Chick" Stahl has a batting average of .354. He is credited with 144 base hits and twenty-three stolen bases. Hickman leads the big league with an average of .413 in nineteen games. Burkett is second and DeLanty third, both of them batting better than .400.

Bob Carruthers said last night he had never umpired in a city where he was given such fair treatment as in Fort Wayne. He is a first-class umpire, knows all the points of the game and better than all, does not allow the players to run the game. President Power can well afford to retain him for next season.

When the team left for Youngstown last night Sample and Hollingsworth did not accompany the other players, Manager Glasscock having decided to leave them at home. Early this morning Hollingsworth received a telegram to report at once. In the game yesterday Gillen hurt himself at second base and it is believed that his leg was so sore this morning that Glasscock deemed it best to let him rest and play "Holly" at short. He will not arrive in Youngstown in time for today's game and it is possible Glasscock will go to short and Guese play first bag.

FILIPINO MAYORS TRAITORS.

FOUND TO BE IN LEAGUE WITH INSURGENTS.

Civic Officials Placed in Power by the Army Helping Aguinaldo—Native Treachery.

Manila, Aug. 22, via Hong Kong. Aug. 22.—Recent events have proved somewhat discouraging to officials who are trying to accompany with a policy of conciliation. Two new municipal governments have collapsed through the treachery of the mayors.

Today the mayor of San Pedro Macati, who was elected by the people under the direction of Professor Dean Worcester, of the United States advisory commission for the Philippines, was brought to Manila and lodged in jail. The United States officers at San Pedro Macati found that he was using his office as a recruiting station for the Philippine army. Four disguised insurgent officers were helping him.

CARRY NEWS TO INSURGENTS.

The mayor of Balinao was also arrested and confined in the same prison. The Americans caught him passing between the lines of the two armies with incriminating documents, which the authorities secured. Another prominent native mayor is under surveillance.

When the result of the election at Imus, which General Lawton and Professor Worcester engineered, was announced, the Americans inquired as to the whereabouts of the people's choice and were informed that he was in prison at Bilibid, where the authorities had placed him on suspicion of being a revolutionist. He was released and installed as mayor.

Such events and conditions tend to give color to the assertions of foreign residents acquainted with the native character, who insist that a great majority of the natives sympathize with the insurgents and elect officials whom they know to be revolutionists.

OMINOUS SIGNS AT MANILA.

For two weeks Manila has been policed at night with unusual vigilance. Apparently the authorities are expecting trouble. The trend of affairs tend to make the policy of leniency unpopular among the Americans. When they abandoned Morong they burned the whole town.

Colonel Smith, of the Twelfth infantry, who is in command at Angeles, is skeptical regarding Filipino friendliness. Instead of allowing the natives to return to the town as heretofore, he has ordered his troops to shoot all men trying to pass the lines and to turn back the women and children.

He recently gave the amigos in the town an opportunity to prove their professed friendship, putting them to work at digging trenches and cleaning streets, but this only displeased them. The foremost citizen of Angeles, a lawyer who had welcomed the Americans with a great show of cordiality, was found communicating with the insurgents. The Americans promptly marched him off to San Fernando to stand trial.

or his comrades. The nation sorrows with the bereaved. These heroes died for their country and there is no nobler death.

"Our troops represented the courage and conscience, the purpose and patriotism of their country. Whether in Cuba, Porto Rico or the Philip-ines, or at home awaiting orders, they did their full duty and all sought the post of greatest peril. They never faltered. The Eighth army corps in the Philippines have made a proud and exceptional record. Privileged to be mustered out in April, when the ratifications of the treaty of peace were exchanged, they did not claim the privilege—they declined it. They voluntarily remained in the service and declared their purpose to stay until their places could be filled by new levies, and longer if the government needed them. Their service—and they understood it—was not to be in camp or garrison, free from danger, but on the battle line, where exposure and death confronted them and where both have exacted their victims.

STEADFAST TO DUTY.

"They did not stack arms. They did not run away. They were not serving the insurgents in the Philippines or their sympathizers at home. They had no part or patience with the men, few in number happily, who would have rejoiced to have seen them lay down their arms in the presence of an enemy whom they had just emancipated from Spanish rule and who should have been our firmest friends. They furnished an example of devotion and sacrifice which will brighten the glorious record of American valor. They have secured not alone the gratitude of the government and the people, but for themselves and their descendants an imperishable distinction. They may not fully appreciate, and the country may not, the heroism of their conduct and its important support to the government. I think I do and I am here to express it.

"The mighty army of volunteers and regulars, numbering over two hundred and fifty thousand, which last year responded to the call of the government with an alacrity without precedent or parallel, by the terms of their enlistment were to be mustered out with all of the regulars, about twenty-seven thousand, when peace with Spain was effected. Peace brought us the Philippines by treaty cession with Spain. The senate of the United States ratified the treaty. Every step taken was in obedience to the constitution.

IT IS OUR TERRITORY.

"It became our territory and ours as much as the Louisiana purchase, or Texas or Alaska. A body of insurgents in no sense representing the sentiment of the people of the islands disputed our lawful authority and even before the ratification of the treaty by the American senate were attacking the very forces who fought for and secured their freedom.

"This was the situation in April, 1899, the date of the exchanging of ratifications—with only twenty seven thousand regulars subject to the unquestioned direction of the executive, and they for the most part on duty in Cuba and Porto Rico or in-validated at home after their severe campaign in the tropics. Even had they been available it would have required months to transport them to the Philippines. Practically a new army had to be created. These loyal volunteers in the Philippines said: 'We will stay until the government can organize an army at home and transport it to the seat of hostilities.' They did stay, cheerfully, uncomplainingly, patriotically.

SUFFERED AND SACRIFICED.

"They suffered and sacrificed, they fought and fell, they drove back and punished the rebels who resisted federal authority and who with force attacked the sovereignty of the United States in its newly acquired territory. Without them then and there we would have been practically helpless on land, our flag would have had its first stain and the American name its first ignominy. The brilliant victories of the army and navy in the bay and city of Manila would have been won in vain, our obligations to civilization would have remained temporarily unperformed, chaos would have reigned, and whatever government there was, would have been by the will of one man and not by the consent of the governed. Who refused to sound the retreat? Who stood in the breach when others weakened?

"The world will never know the restraint of our soldiers—their self-control under the most exasperating conditions. For weeks subject to the insults and duplicity of the insurgent leaders, they preserved the status quo, remembering that they were under an order from their government to sacredly observe the terms of the protocol in letter and spirit and avoid all conflict except in defense pending the negotiations of the treaty of peace. They were not the aggressors. They did not begin hostilities against the insurgents pending the ratification of the treaty of peace in the senate, great as was their justification, because their orders from Washington forbade it. TAKES ALL RESPONSIBILITY.

"I take all the responsibility for that direction. Otis only executed the orders of his government, and the soldiers, under great provocation to strike back, obeyed. Until the treaty was ratified we had no authority beyond Manila city, bay and harbor. We then had no other title to defend, no authority beyond that to maintain. Spain was still in possession of the remainder of the archipelago. Spain had sued for peace,

Foul-Smelling Catarrh.

Catarrh is one of the most obstinate diseases, and hence the most difficult to get rid of.

There is but one way to cure it. The disease is in the blood, and all the sprays, washes and inhaling mixtures in the world can have no permanent effect whatever upon it. Swift's Specific cures Catarrh permanently, for it is the only remedy which can reach the disease and force it from the blood.

Mr. B. P. McAllister, of Harrodsburg, Ky., had Catarrh for years. He writes: "I could see no improvement whatever, and was constantly treated with sprays and washes, and different inhalants. In fact, I could feel that each winter I was worse than the year previous."

"Finally it was brought to my notice that Catarrh was a blood disease, and after thinking over the matter, I saw it was reasonable to expect to be cured by remedies which only reached the surface. I then decided to try S. S. S., and after a few bottles were used, I noticed a perceptible improvement. Continuing the remedy, the disease was forced out of my system, and a complete cure was the result. I advise all who have this dreadful disease to abandon all other remedies, which have no effect whatever upon it. It promptly reaches Catarrh, and never fails to cure even the most aggravated cases."

To continue the wrong treatment for Catarrh is to continue to suffer. Swift's Specific is a real blood remedy, and cures obstinate, deep-seated diseases, which other remedies have no effect whatever upon. It promptly reaches Catarrh, and never fails to cure even the most aggravated cases.

A COMBINATION OF BEVERAGE WITH FOOD.

Coffee in itself contains no nourishment we all know, but when two teaspoons of Grape-Nuts food are added to a cup of coffee, a new flavor is found and the best of nourishing food obtained.

It is a novel experience in food and drink worth trying. People who cannot digest coffee will find Postum Cereal Coffee, when properly boiled, a charming beverage with coffee taste and color, but with great food value, being in reality a food drink. Grape-Nuts stirred into hot Postum gives one an ideal combination.

LIGHTNING'S WORK.

Lightning struck the barn of Danford Parker, at Huntstown, at 6 o'clock Saturday morning, and the building and contents were totally destroyed by fire. Mr. Parker was one of the founders of the Allen County Mutual Insurance company, and was for many years its president. His loss on the barn is partially covered by policy No. 1 in that company.

The residence of Joseph Falls, in Marion township, was struck by lightning Saturday morning, but only slight damage resulted.

WANTS AN INJUNCTION.

George S. Eldred, of Chicago, has filed with Deputy Clerk Logan, of the United States circuit court, an action against the Star Electric company, of Waterloo, alleging infringement of patent on a new and useful improvement on electric lamp lighters. Mr. Eldred asks for a perpetual injunction restraining defendants from manufacturing and selling the same.

Because General Mercier has not yet run away is no proof that he would not like to.

Those Filipino mayors who have gone back on their oaths have some American prototypes from whom they have evidently been getting tips.

With Millionaire Hanna supremely interested in the republican ticket and Millionaire McLean leading the democratic ticket, prosperity seems likely to strike Ohio politicians square in the solar plexus.

New York is in a fever of impatience for the arrival of Admiral Dewey and there is evident danger that, like the small boy who gets premature possession of his Fourth of July firecrackers, Gotham will touch the match to her celebration some days before the hero arrives.

The willingness of Sir Wilfrid Laurier to accept, after all, the invitation extended by the Chicago festival committee to visit that city in October means either the subsidence of the political storms in Canada or else that the Canadian premier has had a sudden accession of courage. Incidentally it reminds citizens of this country that the Alaskan boundary question is not yet settled.

One explanation from Washington which is the place, by the way, where comes all such explanations of why General Miles indorses General Otis is that if any one else goes to Manila and conducts a successful campaign he will be made lieutenant general of the United States army. General Miles, according to this story, is convinced that he would not be sent in any event, and fears that if Otis were recalled Merritt would be sent and win the plum.

Gen. B. F. Tracy, who is now in Europe and has attended sessions of the Dreyfus trial, says it is connected more like a desultory conversation in a club than anything else. Members of the numerous New York clubs to which the general belongs will doubtless wonder which one of them he is thinking of. The distinguished lawyer further says: "No rules of evidence are observed. In the United States the primary rule is that the best kind of evidence must be given. Here a witness quotes from a letter instead of the court producing the writer of the letter. No guiding principles are observed to make it a serious, well conducted trial."

Tennessee has proved her good sense by her treatment of men from that state who have seen service in the Spanish-American war. A committee has been appointed to secure good business positions for members of the Tennessee regiment honorably discharged from the service. This is considerably more practical than brass bands, banquets and bouquets, and there is no doubt that the men themselves will like it better. One of the sacrifices which the volunteer soldier often makes when he enlists is in giving up a good place, which, perhaps, he has earned by several years of hard work. Often this place is kept for him, so that on his return from the war he can step into it at once; but sometimes it is not. There are also many volunteers who were unemployed at the time of enlistment, but are fully competent to fill positions if the places can be found, and who will be all the better workmen for their rough experience in the field. This Tennessee movement is a good one.

Thomas Taggart has been renominated for mayor of Indianapolis by the democrats and has accepted. He has twice been elected to that office. Mr. Taggart did not want to be a candidate for a third term, but party pressure was seemingly too strong for him and he has consented and will go into the campaign with his usual energy in all things political. It looks as though Indianapolis democrats were unjust to their leader. Failing health, a recent bereavement and business considerations united to make him wish to retire for a time at least to private life. These urgencies, it would seem, ought to be respected. It is argued, of course, that Mr. Taggart has already had twelve years of office in Marion county, eight as county auditor and four as mayor of the city, and many democrats point to this as placing him under obligations to his party when he is particularly needed as a candidate. However it may be looked at, Mr. Taggart has consented to have another try at the mayoralty and personal considerations now become Mr. Taggart's strictly private affairs. His wide and growing popularity as well as his undiminished strength in his party is notable. In the state democrats generally will be pleased to see him again heading the democratic ticket in the capital city.

Maot Scherer will either stop the gambling going on in this city or he will not. If he does not stop it, then that species of lawlessness goes on with his consent and approval. He cannot plead ignorance of the condition. It is known to him, through his police department and through the newspaper which is presumed to speak to the administration. As we pointed out at the time of a recent spasmodic move against the gamblers, "raids" made merely to quiet public criticism will deceive nobody, and if such raids are made in good faith no good can come from the manner of them. The police are empowered by law to confiscate and destroy all gambling paraphernalia found in gambling rooms. Why is this not done? The mayor cannot run away from his responsibility in this matter. If he permits gambling and all-night and all-Sunday saloons, it is because he is indifferent to his oath and faithless to the people, or because he prefers a lawless condition and regards the interests of the gamblers and law-breaking saloonkeepers as superior to the moral interests of the city which he thus misrules. Mayor Scherer can take no half-way stand. He cannot be both good lord and good devil. He must be right or he must be wrong. He must lay the law on the gamblers or he must lie down to them. If he does not scourge them, they will cause him to be scourged. This indifference to law-breaking, if indifference only it is, amounts to the infamy of a league with it.

BADLY CUT WITH SCISSORS.

WILLIAM RILEY STABBED JOHN PONTIUS IN ABDOMEN.

The Internal Organs Were Lacerated and the Wound is a Dangerous One.

William Riley, an engineer whose home is in Garrett, Ind., is in the Allen county jail charged with assault and battery with intent to kill. Saturday night he was about Harry Gilbert's saloon and there met John Pontius, well known about town. The men engaged in a quarrel and were separated once or twice. Finally Riley left the place and claims that Pontius followed him. There was another quarrel and the men were about to come to blows when Riley pulled a pair of scissors, such as are used to trim finger nails, and struck at Pontius. The scissors struck him in the upper part of the abdomen. For a few minutes it was not believed Pontius was seriously cut. Dr. J. E. Miller was called and found that the scissors had penetrated the intestines and almost severed the canal in one place. He was removed to St. Joe hospital, where he is under the tender care of the Sisters of Providence. Pontius' condition was quite serious last night and it appeared as if he might die, but there was some improvement this morning and the doctor believes now he may recover. Pontius is a married man and lives on Lafayette street.

Riley, who is almost fifty years of age, was arraigned before Mayor Scherer on a charge of assault and battery with intent to kill. He did not deny the cutting, but claimed he was compelled to stab Pontius in self-defense. The preliminary hearing was set for Wednesday morning and Riley held in $1,000 bail, in default of which he is now in jail.

NORTHERN INDIANA NOTES.

Professor S. K. Ganiard, superintendent of schools at Lima, will wed Miss Lillian Miller, also of Lima, August 31.

Bram Ray, twelve-year-old son of George M. Ray, of Warsaw, has been missing from home since July 7th, and nothing is known of his whereabouts.

Pickpockets reaped a harvest at Bluffton during the performance of a wild west show. Simon Hetrick, a farmer, was relieved of $140 in cash while standing at the ticket wagon.

W. J. Jackman is under arrest at Warsaw charged with arson. It is said that he set fire to the Gerard restaurant in that city, causing a heavy loss, on the evening of August 10th.

A dispatch from North Judson says the Inter-State Oil company has leased a tract of 38,000 acres of land for the development of oil fields. Five wells just completed are flowing at the rate of twenty barrels daily. The Inter-State company will expend $100,000 in operating the fields.

The will of the late William Whitlenberger, of Rochester, has been probated. One of the bequests provides for the erection of a Methodist church at Akron, and forty acres of valuable land is set aside for this purpose. The remainder of the property, consisting largely of real estate, goes to the aged widow.

Charles B. Holmes, a pioneer of Lagrange county, is dead at his home in Lagrange. He was seventy-seven years old. Mr. Holmes moved to Lagrange from Ohio in 1844, opened the first store, was appointed the first postmaster and was the first justice of the peace elected. He was prominent in political and Masonic circles.

Harry Clark, for many years an employe of the offices of the Baltimore & Ohio Railway company at Garrett, was cut to pieces Saturday. He was preparing for the first time to take a run as brakeman on a through freight, and was struck by a train coming from an opposite direction while standing on the track. He leaves a wife and parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Dunkle, of Cedar Island, Cass county, the former eighty years old and the latter nearly seventy-five, have separated, she leaving the home and driving away their only cow. Mr. Dunkle says his wife became jealous of him two years ago when she had the grip. They lived in Cass county since 1864, and reared a family of nine children, four of whom are living. Mr. Dunkle is a civil war veteran.

Miss Wilson, adopted daughter of Attorney James Arthur, of North Manchester, says Frank Rupert has cast a powerful spell over her which she cannot resist. Twice she has cloped with Rupert and has been taken home by her adopted father. The first time they were overhauled at Kendallville and the girl returned home. Soon Rupert reappeared in North Manchester and the girl cloped with him. They were found in the woods near Decatur by an officer sent by the girl's father. Miss Wilson is a handsome girl of much intelligence.

The largest public sale ever held in Indiana will take place September 14 at Pennville. All the personal property of the late Adelina Lupton, the Pennville banker, is to be sold by the executors of the estate. In the list are 1,500 heads of sheep, 3,000 heads of hogs, 65 two and three-year-old steers, 25 head of fat cattle, 30 milch cows, 20 spring calves, 25 head of horses, 1,000 bushels of oats, 200 acres of corn in the field, 25 tons of baled hay, five well-bred bucks, a lot of farming implements and a new stock of goods consisting of 14 buggies, 15 sets of single harness, one set of double harness, eight breaking plows, halters, collars, collar pads, whips, lap robes and many other articles.

AGAINST SUNDAY BASE BALL.

PROTESTS FILED WITH CITY AND COUNTY OFFICERS.

Fifteen Members of the Good Citizens' League Signed It.—New Developments.

The Good Citizens' League tried a new plan yesterday in its efforts to stop Sunday base ball. Attorney A. H. Bittenger, who has been employed by the league, filed with Mayor Scherer, Sheriff Melching and Superintendent Gorsline the following notice and protest:

"The undersigned citizens and residents of Allen county, Indiana, respectfully inform you that the Fort Wayne and Springfield base ball clubs have publicly advertised that they intend to play a game of base ball on their grounds, at the north end of Calhoun street, and within the corporate limits of the city of Fort Wayne, in Allen county, Indiana, on Sunday, August the 27th, 1899, under the rules adopted for the playing of base ball games.

"We further protest that the league clubs, of which the Fort Wayne club is one of the number, have heretofore unlawfully disregarded and violated section 2087, of the revised statutes of the state of Indiana, prohibiting the playing of base ball on Sunday, and said Fort Wayne club has been found guilty of the violation of said law.

"We therefore, as citizens and residents of the city of Fort Wayne, and of Allen county, Indiana, protest against the violation of said law, and request and demand that you, the sheriff of Allen county, and a conservator of the peace by virtue of your office as sheriff, prevent the unlawful assembling of said base ball clubs on their grounds for the purpose of playing base ball as aforesaid, and that you arrest all persons who may assemble, with intent to violate said law, and for which we will ever pray.

"Fort Wayne, Ind., Aug. 26, '99." The protests are signed by G. W. Maxwell, A. S. Coverdale, C. H. Jennings, D. Shordon, John Gilbert, G. T. Parry, W. E. Mossman, William Carter, S. F. Bowser, F. H. Starkel, F. W. Dishro, J. A. Boykwalter, David Little, F. A. McMaken, A. Z. Polhamus.

At first, it is understood, that the officers were inclined to interfere, but finally decided that the game should go unmolested, except that it is possible one of the officers may file affidavits in one of the justices courts, but even this may not be done. The Good Citizens' league had a purpose in filing the above protest which may develop within the next few days.

STRICKEN BY PARALYSIS.

Daniel Williams, a salesman for the Maumee Steam and Hot Water Heating company, suffered a stroke of paralysis while alone in the company's establishment, 38 Harrison street, Saturday evening. Other employes had gone home leaving Mr. Williams at work. Without a moment's warning the stroke came and he fell prostrate to the floor, where for two hours he lay helpless, unable to attract the attention of a passer-by. Williams' entire left side had been affected and he could not speak. About the only movement possible during these two awful hours was to rap upon the floor with his right hand, and this he did almost constantly. Finally a gentleman passing happened to look in and saw the prostrate man. He entered the store and assisted Williams to a chair. Dr. Calvin was called and the patient removed to his home, 57 Walnut street. He is much improved, and it is believed will entirely recover.

LAWYERS.Leading Legal Lights of America and England
to Meet at Buffalo.

BY HOWARD SPENCE SINCLAIR.

Some of the most prominent lawyers in this country and representatives of the legal profession from other countries will gather in Buffalo early in September to attend the conferences of the American Bar association and the International Law association.

The names and reputations of many of the leading American delegates are well known. The English representatives, however, are men who have seldom if ever crossed the ocean. At each of these conferences England is represented by some of her best lawyers. Lord Chief Justice Russell was a delegate to one of these gatherings a year or two ago.

This year the English delegation is headed by the Hon. Sir William Rann Kennedy, justice of the queen's bench division, high court of justice. He will read a paper before the American Bar association and deliver the inaugural address as chairman of the eighteenth conference of the International Law association.

Justice Kennedy is a Cambridge man and has an honorable record at the university as a medal winner and senior classic. He was called to the bar from Lincoln's Inn and, entering into active practice in Liverpool, made a specialty of maritime and commercial law. He wrote a learned work on "Law of Civil Salvage," which has been accepted as a standard treatise on a complex branch of law. In politics he was an earnest Liberal and unsuccessfully contested Birkenhead in two elections and subsequently St. Helens, but has never succeeded in entering parliament. After "taking silk" in London he was appointed to the queen's bench by Lord Herschell.

Justice Kennedy is one of the youngest men on the queen's bench, being in his fifty-fourth year and at the maturity of his powers. As a barrister he had a wide range of practice, and on the bench he has proved himself to be a sound, conservative jurist.

His scholarly tastes, which were developed at Cambridge, have enabled him to write a standard work of law and have also interested him in those abstract questions which are considered at international law conferences. He will preside with keen intelligence and stately dignity over the Buffalo conference, for he is pre-eminently a student of commercial and international law.

Accompanying Justice Kennedy will be Mr. Joseph Walton, Q. C. He was educated at the Jesuit college of St. Mary's, a sincere Roman Catholic in religion and an uncompromising Radical in politics. He has not secured a place on the English bench to which his eminent talents as a barrister have entitled him. He practiced for several years in Liverpool, the great school of English commercial law, and is one of the leaders of the English bar, with an immense practice in London.

In his own specialty, which is maritime and company law, he is a strong advocate, with remarkable lucidity of mind, and he is one of the most genial men in the profession. He will take an important part in the discussions of the conference of international law and will also read a paper on "Legal Education" before the American Bar association.

Another delegate is Mr. Thomas Gilbert Carver, Q. C., who will take an active part in the Buffalo conference. He took high rank at St. John's college, Cambridge, and practiced law for 17 years in Liverpool before going to London, where he has won a great reputation in commercial and maritime law.

Mr. Carver's chief interest in the conference lies in the adoption of a new code of rules in marine insurance, by which American, English and continental practice may be brought into accord and uniformity without legislation. The system which he advocates deals with points on which serious differences occur in the law and practice of maritime countries and if the proposed rules are incorporated in policies will operate by contract, like the York-Antwerp rules, to prevent conflicts in marine insurance law.

Mr. Carver took a prominent part in the last conference of the International Law association, and he will explain his new rules at both meetings to be held in Buffalo. If he be properly supported by the leading companies as well as the delegates, the insurance laws of the world may be simplified and reformed by the application of the Buffalo rules to the contracts of marine policies.

He was a little "shy." "Daddy, I want to marry Charlie Freshleigh." "Why doesn't he come to me? What's the trouble with him? No money?" "No, daddy; no dollars!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

THE TURF REVIEW.

A California trotter, by Conductor, 2:14, has been named Ticket.

"Knapsack" McCarty is confident that he can drive Searchlight a mile in two minutes this fall.

Keera, 2:18, trotting, and Tonita F. 2:11, pacing, are a brace of new ones by Kevler, 2:13.

Alto Rio, a green brother of Chehalis, 2:04, at work at San Jose, Cal., is showing miles in 2:14.

Only half a second now stands between that wonderful 4-year-old, The Maid, 2:05, and the mare's pacing record.

Arbutuskan, 2:09, is now wearing the hobbles. It is said that he has shown a half in one minute, and a quarter in 29 seconds.

Joe Thayer drove his 2-year-old, The Tramp, by Jay Bird, in 2:21 at Lexington July 29 and his 4-year-old gelding, by Simmons, in 2:14.

At Cleveland W. L. Snow made a new driving record. He drove two pacers, Hal B. 2:04, and Ananias, 2:05, into the 2:05 list in the same week.

Joe Patchen, 2:01, has all his speed in the mile he worked at Columbus recently in 2:06. He paced the last half in 1:03 and last quarter in 29 seconds.

The other day at Cleveland McClary worked Star Pointer six miles, the last three being in 2:12, 2:06, 2:05. The last quarter of the last mile was paced in 30 seconds.

Monroe Salisbury is schooling a fast filly by Nutwood Wilkes, 2:16, sired by Who Is It, 3, 2:12, John A. McKerron, 3, 2:12, etc., out of a sister of his former famous breadwinner, Little Albert, 2:10.

Shedd Wilkes, by J. R. Shedd, now racing in the east, where she has lately reduced her record from 2:24 to 2:10, is out of the Wedgewood mare, Isabella, who also produced the noted filly, Horatia Wilkes, 3, 2:10, sold to the Austrians two seasons ago.—Horse Review.

THE ROYAL BOX.

King Humbert of Italy cannot sleep except upon a very hard bed. He dispenses with the use of pillows. He uses sheets of the very coarsest web and sleeps like a top.

Kaiser Wilhelm takes special delight in watching the balls given by his military officers. He likes to find fault with the awkwardness of the officers and reprimands them for some real or imaginary misstep at every opportunity.

The queen of Italy is considered the most highly educated queen in the world. She speaks, besides her own language, English, French, German and Spanish, and she delights in the study of theology, biology, geology, botany and other difficult subjects.

The greatest dandy in Europe is Prince Albert of Thurn, Germany. He has a new suit every day, and it is perfumed with the costliest attar of roses. He has three neckties a day on the average, and his cast-off boots number more than a hundred pairs annually.

The empress of Japan has privileges accorded to her which none of her predecessors ever enjoyed. She may eat at the same table with the emperor, who frequently consults her upon matters of state. She is a good horsewoman and exercises daily in her private gymnasium.

THE HONEY HUNTERS.

The best trees to set around the hive are fruit trees. Heat does not damage honey, but tends to ripen and improve it. Dampness and darkness do not agree with it.

Honey improves with age. The older it is the finer the flavor. Extracted honey is easier kept than comb.

Fertile workers sometimes appear in queenless colonies, which amounts to about the same as drone producing queens. They will lay eggs but irregularly.

A virgin queen is useless while she remains thus. It often occurs that such queens will begin to lay eggs just the same as a fertilized queen, but all such eggs hatch to drone bees only.

Bees are not molested at night. No work can be performed with them at that time with any satisfaction. They are always more peaceable when gathering honey and may then be readily handled.

Granulation improves the appearance of any quality of honey. It never fails to give a lighter shade. It also has a tendency to drive away any wild taste and make a purer sweet, and the honey will keep better.—St. Louis Republic.

SUNSTROKE.

In case of sunstroke, the first thing to be done is to remove the clothing and get the sufferer into a cold bath—iced, if possible—and keep ice on the head until consciousness returns.

In heat exhaustion the skin is covered with a cold moisture. Use no cold applications, but give fresh air, using a fan, if necessary, and administer small and diluted doses of brandy or whisky.

Every family should have a clinical thermometer, as in a case of sunstroke the temperature of the patient must be carefully watched. When the temperature is reduced to 100 degrees F., cold water treatment may be discontinued.

THE CARE OF GEMS.

Coral may be washed with soap and water.

Jet must be repaired by means of jeweler's cement.

Turquoises must not be wetted and are liable to change color.

Ivory may be washed and exposed to air and sunlight to keep it a good white color.

Pearls should never be dampened. They should be exposed to air as much as possible.

Opals must be kept from fire and heat, as a high temperature renders them liable to split and fall from their setting.

THE NURSERY.

Many women prefer cork carpets for the nursery floor.

When one wishes a child to sleep, she should never lay it on its back.

A delight for the baby will be found in one of those fantastically decorated crawling rugs.

The nursery should be the largest room in the house. A southern aspect is considered best. The walls should be artistically decorated in order to influence the children to appreciate artistic things.

MATRON AND MAID.

Lady Rose Leigh, Lord Abergavenny's daughter, can lift a 200 pound weight.

Mrs. D. Harry Hammer, a Chicago society woman, has a collection of 10,000 buttons.

Emma Goldman, the anarchist, vows that she will not stop fighting trusts, capitalists and governments until society is revolutionized.

Among saleswomen of New York Mrs. Richard Croker enjoys the reputation of being the kindest and most considerate shopper in that city.

Miss Kingsley, the explorer and traveler, was once the recipient of an embarrassing present—namely, 300 husbands, the gift of a savage chief.

Lady Walsley has been described as the best dressed woman in Europe. This verdict was passed by a French aristocrat on the Bois de Boulogne.

Mrs. Deland, the Boston novelist, is a football enthusiast like her husband, the Harvard coach, and is a regular spectator at all the Cambridge games.

Mrs. Richard P. Bland is true to her late husband's memory. She wears suspended from her neck the first silver dollar coined under the Bland law.

Mrs. Thomas C. Platt is described as a most unostentatious woman, tall, matronly, with dark hair, verging on gray. She wears little jewelry, though she is the owner of some famous diamonds.

American woman though she is, the Duchess d'Altois, wife of the Spanish minister at Washington, looks almost as much of a Spaniard as her husband. She has a strong face, with large, dark eyes.

Mme. Patti has been obliged to make a rule that she will never kiss anybody except her family and intimate friends. After one of the concerts that she gave in New York no less than 3,000 ladies insisted on embracing her.

The Duchess of Marlborough has some strange pets in cages at Blenheim. Eagles, vultures, an ibis and a garter snake are among the number. The last named was purchased by her grace on the banks of the Nile and is an especial favorite.

Hetty Green has a fancy for moving from place to place. She will stay a week in a hotel in New York city, then pack up all her belongings and go to some town in New Jersey, where she spends a week or two, as suddenly leaving that to return to New York.

Mme. Rostand, wife of the author of "Cyrano de Bergerac," has a gift of her own for writing verses. Not long ago some of them were recited by Sarah Bernhardt at one of the matinees which Paris journals delight to give.

Ida Conquest is to be the heroine of William Gillette's "Sherlock Holmes" drama.

B. B. Valentine has made a comedy out of his Fitznoodle papers, published some years ago.

William F. Owen will play Jos Sedley next season in Mrs. Fisk's production of "Reckless Sharp."

Jeff De Angelis is said to be endeavoring to secure Della Fox for his leading lady next season.

Cissy Loftus has added the impersonation of an orchestra leader to her act, and descends over the footlights to demonstrate it practically.

H. A. Du Souchet is writing a new comedy on the style of "My Friend from India" that Burt and Simmons, the managers of his musical farce comedy, "An Easy Mark," will present late in the coming season.

THE WRITERS.

Thomas Hardy built himself his present country house out of the profits of his first novel, "Desperate Remedies."

Rudyard Kipling says that the hardest work he ever did and the hardest he ever saw done is that of a newspaper office.

Asked by a reporter what he considered his greatest work, Anthony Hope recently replied, "It has never been written."

M. Edouard Rod, the French critic and author, is of a sensitive temperament. While witnessing one of Chicago's pet shows—the killing of dogs in the stockyards there—he fainted at the sight of blood and slaughter.

W. W. Jacobs, the author of "Mary Carrows" and other amusing books, has been compelled to give up all work on account of ill health. When he is not writing books, he is a clerk in the bank department of the London general post office.

THAT BOSTON BRICK.

Alderman Mike Brick of Boston says that Dewey is "a second Bonaparte." Mike should have one of his namesakes at himself.—New York Sun.

If there is fame in being the only one of half a million Bostonians to throw missiles at Admiral Dewey, Alderman Brick is entitled to all of it.—Boston Journal.

The name of Alderman Brick of Boston should be removed into fame's most enduring pantheon. He is the municipal legislator who opposed an appropriation for a Dewey reception.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Alderman Brick of Boston, who objects to making a fuss over Dewey, is probably a lineal descendant of "one of the most remarkable men in the country," the Hon. Jefferson Brick of Martin Chuzzlewit's day.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

HEALTH.

"He lives most life whoever breathes most air," says Elizabeth Barrett Browning.

"I honor health," says Emerson, "as the first virtue and sleep as the condition of health."

We patch the body from the outside, hoping thereby to make it mentally tenable a little longer. But it is built from within. From the inner to the outer is the universal established order.

When we are out of sorts, things grate on our nerves and the most trifling annoyances assume the proportions of a catastrophe. It is a sure sign that we need rest and fresh air.—Lubbock.

"It makes my blood boil!" he exclaimed. "That's good," she replied. "Good!" he cried. "Certainly," she answered. "Boiling is recommended to remove impurities in all liquids."—Brooklyn Eagle.

MEN OF MARK.

Robert Knight, the cotton king of Providence, started life as a penniless farmhand.

In his younger days Mr. Lyman J. Gage, secretary of the treasury, was an athlete and could lift 1,000 pounds.

Rear Admiral Kautz is almost as great a smoker as was General Grant and is rarely seen without a pipe in his mouth.

Colonel Albert A. Pope says, "I never spent what I didn't have, and, relatively, very little of what I did have." He is rich now.

Simon Mays, ex-mayor of St. Louis, started George M. Pullman on his business career and got a position in a bank for Lyman J. Gage.

Congressman John M. Mitchell of New York city is known as the "Adonis of the house," and is generally said to be the handsomest man in public life.

Major Alvan Bovay, who is quietly passing the closing years of a long life in Brooklyn, was one of the men to christen the Republican party on March 20, 1854.

When Thomas A. Edison was a newspaper on a train passing near the handsome houses of East Orange, N. J., he said to a friend, "I shall live in one of those places some day." And he does now.

John Giffard Agar is credited with being the leading clubman of New York city. He belongs to 14 different clubs, besides the Bar association and the American Geographical society, his dues annually amounting to the sum of $550.

John Philip Sousa dislikes very much to hear his music "imitated." He recently stopped an organ grinder on Broadway, New York, and took the organ and finished "grinding out" one of his marches in the time that suited him best.

Senator Hanna, although he used to read a great deal, has now little time for books, his only reading being a few magazines and a vast number of newspapers.

Harlow N. Higginbotham, former president of the World's Columbian exposition, has greenhouses in which are 50,000 cactuses. It is the ambition of this wealthy Chicagoan to own every variety of it. He recently offered $5,000 for one specimen.

Senator Hawley of Connecticut is said to be very absentminded. His friends tell the story that he once went to New York from New Haven and as soon as he got out of the train got mixed in a crowd taking the same train back. He returned to the train and was recalled to himself by the conductor.

Charles A. Chapin of Niles, Mich., bought some land near that place many years ago, thinking that it contained copper. When he discovered that he was mistaken he tried in vain for 20 years to sell it. Then he discovered that it was rich in iron, making him one of the wealthiest men in the state.

ENGLAND'S NEW PRIZE.

The Prince of Wales says William Waldorf Astor borrows best. This almost entitles the prince to the glory of American citizenship.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Mr. W. W. Astor's pedigree, for which he paid so much, was a fake after all. And yet all the pedigrees in the world wouldn't make a man of him.—Atlanta Constitution.

The English papers are having a lot of fun with their new Johnnie. And they like best of all to quote what the Yankee journals say about our grief over losing William Waldorf—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

It was an Englishman who took the trouble to expose William Waldorf Astor's sham genealogy. The American press, which he so despises, never did him such an ill turn as that.—Buffalo Express.

William Waldorf Astor removed his citizenship to England, but he will probably continue his real estate investments in New York city. Even English dukes and earls have been known to draw dividends from property in the United States.—Syracuse Herald.

OUR ADMIRAL.

Dewey, it seems, is so great a man that even the Kaiser does not care to quarrel with him.—Philadelphia Ledger.

When Admiral Dewey is quoted as saying an indiscreet thing, the presumption is always that he didn't say it.—New York Tribune.

Admiral Dewey has consented to place himself in the hands of the New York entertaining committee. No braver man than Dewey ever lived.—Atlanta Journal.

It is pleasant to read in a cablegram that Admiral Dewey had a day to himself. He will get more of them when he gets up in the green mountains of Vermont.—Cincinnati Commercial-Tribune.

George Dewey is not yet 62 years young. Here's hoping more than one happy decade is in store for our admiral after he passes through the ordeal of enthusiastic welcome from his countrymen.—Boston Journal.

TRUST THRUSTS.

The promoters have caused the bicycle trust to explode by pumping too much air into it.—Chicago Record.

The yarn trust admits its purpose is to make it warm for the people by next winter at the latest.—Philadelphia Times.

There seems to be lucrative employment for everybody nowadays except the professional trust buster.—Pittsburg News.

Atlas is said to have held the world upon his shoulders. Today men organize trusts and try to pocket it.—Chicago News.

The cotton duck trust has waddled in along with the rest. We shall have to keep an eye on the canvasbacks.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Providence and a whole lot of people know that New England was a hard enough country to live in long before it formed a granite trust.—St. Louis Republic.

TIRE PUNCTURES.

All bicycle repair shops should mend punctured tires at cut rates.—Berlin (Md.) Herald.

Bicycles are a little cheaper this year, but the bicycle girls are as dear as ever.—Nauvoo Rustler.

Of course the rider who smashes his cyclometer breaks the bicycle record.—Philadelphia Record.

If a bicyclist doesn't speak every time he is spoken to, it is no sign that he is stuck up. He may be afraid of falling off.—Washington Democrat.

One Place He Would Accept. "I think you are the laziest man I ever saw. Is there any job on earth you would take for the salary?" "Yes, I think I'd be willing to hold the position of Spanish minister of war."—Chicago Tribune.

HOUSEHOLD SOAPS.

How to Make a Good Article at Very Small Expense.

A capital soap for housecleaning and clothes washing purposes is made in the following way: Procure a half pound tin of 98 per cent of caustic soda (which may be obtained from a grocer), which will cost about 12 cents, and put it in a large basin or other earthenware vessel containing one quart of cold water. By stirring it will instantly get very hot. Let it stand till cool. This is called "soda lye." In a larger earthenware vessel melt three pounds of any kind of fat without salt, and for this purpose save all refuse fat or grease of any kind from the table, melted and the pure fat strained off.

Allow it to cool until it just begins to set, and then pour the soda lye into it in a continuous stream, stirring until it becomes like honey. Then pour the mixture into a wooden box capable of holding six pounds of soap. The box should previously be lined with a piece of damp calico. Well cover it up with a piece of old blanket and let it stand until next day in a cool place to set, when you will have six pounds of pure soap at a cost of about 12 cents for caustic soda plus the price of fat, which has the advantage of bleaching calico without injuring the fabric.

How to Clean White Goods.

Put half an ounce of salts of tartar into a bottle with half an ounce of sal ammoniac, add half a pint of warm water and shake the bottle until the salts and the sal ammoniac have dissolved. Stretch the stained portion of the fabric over a small basin and pour some of the liquid over it. If the stain has been recently made, it will soon disappear, but if the linen has already been washed it will probably be necessary to repeat the process several times, and the fabric should be very gently rubbed now and then. When the mark is no longer visible, rinse the linen at once in hot water and then wash it well with soft soap and hot water and let it dry in the sun.

How to Make Fish Pie.

Melt an ounce of butter or clarified dripping in a saucepan and cook with it the same quantity of flour for a few minutes, stirring the mixture all the time so that it may not change color. Add half of a small onion, sliced, a sprig of parsley and a small slice of fat bacon and let the ingredients fry for five minutes. Then pour in gradually rather more than half a pint of milk and stir until the sauce is smooth and thick. Season with salt, pepper and a little grated nutmeg, let simmer for 15 minutes and pass through a strainer. Butter a pie dish and place in it a layer of cooked fish, divided into flakes, cover it with sauce, then add more fish and more sauce alternately until the dish is nearly full. Spread some well boiled rice, which has been mixed with a little butter, a tablespoonful of tomato sauce and seasoned with salt and pepper, over the top of the pie. Then scatter the rice thickly with browned crumbs, place some little pieces of butter on them and bake the pie in a hot oven for about 15 minutes.

How to Crinkle Eggs.

Heat to a boil half a cupful of cream or rich milk and slip six eggs gently into the pan. Let them come to a boil, cover and remove to the back of the stove. Keep very hot for ten minutes. Just before serving, dust with salt and pepper and dot with bits of butter.

How to Cure a Head Shaking Horse.

In speaking of the peculiarities of the colt Linnaea, Ben Kenney told me that he cured him of the annoying habit of throwing his nose out and shaking his head by simply trimming all the long hairs out of his nostrils says a writer in the Horse Review. The wind blew the hairs back in his nose and tickled him so that he couldn't keep his head still. Kenney said that he believed long hairs in the nose were just what caused so many horses to shake their heads when trotting against the wind.

How to Make Speed Beef.

Mince boiled beef, fat and all, rather fine. Add salt, pepper, pounded cloves, a little thyme and some finely chopped parsley. Stir into this three whole eggs and some thick fresh cream. This may be baked in a border mold or in a round tin, with a cup set in the center to give the shape of a ring. Serve with tomatoes filled up in the middle and any good thick sauce, according to taste.

How to Make Hot Pot.

Two and a half pounds of cold roast pork, potatoes, seasoning, stock. Put some slices of the pork in a deep, greased pie dish, sprinkle with pepper, salt, chopped onion and sweet herbs and then place a layer of sliced potatoes. Put in a few lumps of dripping here and there and repeat till all the meat is used. Cover the potatoes and bake in a moderate oven for 2½ hours.

How to Make Cheese Fondue.

Put one tablespoonful of butter in the chafing dish and when melted add one cup of fresh milk, one cup of fine bread crumbs, two cups of grated cheese, a tablespoonful of dry mustard and a dash of cayenne. Stir constantly and add just before serving two eggs beaten light.

How to Make Mushroom Sauce.

Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter and add two tablespoonfuls of flour, one-fourth teaspoonful of salt, a dash of pepper and half a cup each of chicken stock and cream. Add the beaten yolk of one egg and chopped mushrooms and let stand over hot water for five minutes.

How to Make Striped Sandwiches.

Cut and butter very thin slices of white and brown bread. Place together, having within each pair a crisp lettuce leaf and one teaspoonful of grated cheese. Roll and hold with a small pick.

How to Remove Oil Spots.

The trying yellow spots so often left by sewing machine oil on white goods may be removed by rubbing the stain with a cloth wet with ammonia before washing with soap.

No Choice.

Oh, women, did you not get glad to hear your prince said: "I'm little as a bird." "I'm little as a bird." As plain, old fashioned heart.—Washington Star.

WATERPROOF VARNISH.

How to Prepare and Apply a Useful and Durable Article.

A good waterproof varnish for old umbrellas and storm coats is made of two parts of turpentine, three parts of linseed oil and one part of powdered litharge. Mix these ingredients together thoroughly and boil in a water bath that is, in a vessel floating in boiling water—the same as the cabinet maker melts his glue. When the varnish is thoroughly boiled so that every part is dissolved, remove it from the stove and apply with a brush while warm. It should be painted over the article to be varnished with the same care as if it were paint. If it is an umbrella, open it wide and spread the varnish smoothly. After it has dried a second coat may be applied if needed.

When the varnish has dried, it will not be stiff and cracky, but will show great elasticity. This varnish can be employed in a great variety of ways. Ordinary cloth can be varnished with it two or three times, and it will be waterproof and almost as serviceable as oilskin or waterproofing cloth. Old rubber coats that have begun to leak can be renewed by giving them a painting with this waterproof varnish. It can be kept on hand for a long time for general use. All that is needed when required for some special work is to heat it up again to the proper temperature.—New Voice.

CHANGE OF AGENTS

THE PENNSYLVANIA MAKES SOME ALTERATIONS.

DODGE AND GRIFFIN RETIRE

AND OTHERS ARE PROMOTED IN THE RANKS.

THE FIREMEN BROTHERHOOD

ADDS OVER A SCORE OF NEW NAMES TO LIST.

The retirement of G. A. Dodge as agent of the Pennsylvania company at Valparaiso has resulted in a half-dozen changes in that branch of the company's service, all becoming effective next Friday. C. M. Mackay succeeds Mr. Dodge at Valparaiso, C. M. Woods succeeds Mr. Mackay at Columbia City and E. G. Stineman takes the agency at Elida, vacated by Mr. Woods. F. P. Griffin, agent at Bourbon, Ind., has also retired from the service and his place will be taken by T. J. Twomey. Each change in location of agents is a promotion and is accompanied by a corresponding increase in salary.

TAPP SECURES CONTRACT.

A telegram Saturday evening from Chief Engineer Thomas Rodd to Herman W. Tapp informed the latter gentleman that he had been awarded the contract to build about seventy per cent. of the second track bridges on the western division of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago road. There are twenty-six bridges in all, some to be built entire and some to receive extensions. They lie on that portions of the road between Van Wert and Adams and Winslow and Waukegan.

DYNAMO SHIPMENTS.

The Fort Wayne Electric company made two important shipments today. One was the dynamo and material for a complete lighting plant at Muscogee, I. T., and the other was a car load of dynamo machinery to Coshocton, Ohio, where the plant is being enlarged.

THREE MEN INJURED.

There were three men injured in the Pittsburgh shops Saturday and today, though none of the injuries are serious. C. D. Nolan, machinist, had the little finger of his right hand skinned upon a stone while grinding a tool; J. F. Sarragin, of the Smith shop, was struck in the breast by a crow bar while assisting to "pinch" along a car, and Charles Barnes, blacksmith, had the end of his right thumb mashed with a hammer.

MACHINISTS' FIELD DAY.

The employees of the Western Gas Construction company indulged in some athletic sports at Centerville park Saturday afternoon. There were races, ball games and bicycle events, followed and interspersed with music and refreshments. These events are monthly affairs and are always very enjoyable.

NEW SMOKE CONSUMER.

The Chicago and Rock Island company is making smoke consumers of all its passenger engines, much to the delight of passengers. The methods adopted are as follows: In the fire-box of the engine is built a hollow brick arch. Below this, and about a foot above the grates, are bored four holes in the sides of the fire-box. In each of these holes is inserted a Sharp's patent deflecting air tube, connecting with the hollow arch. Through these tubes the outside air is drawn in, and, after being heated, is allowed to mix with the unconsumed gases or hydrocarbons. By this mixing the gases are transformed into a perfect state of combustion and in this state they are consumed and thoroughly disposed of.

BENDING RESIGNS.

John H. Bending has resigned his position with the Bass company and will return to Findlay, where he will resume his old position. Mr. Bending has just returned from Falls River, Mass., where he erected a Bass engine.

WILL RETURN TO IRELAND.

James Woulfe, the young man who sustained a sunstroke while working in the yards adjacent to the Pittsburgh round house last June, will leave for Ireland, his native land, in a few days. The young man has not recovered entirely and it is believed the sea voyage and a sojourn in his native place will restore his health.

THE FIREMEN'S BROTHERHOOD.

Tonight C. W. Maier, third grand master of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, will finish his labors in Fort Wayne for the present. His visit here has been fruitful, resulting in a greatly increased membership of the local lodge and creating an interest that presages still further improvement in that line in the near future. Yesterday Mr. Maier addressed the Ladies' auxiliary and a large number of the wives of firemen whose husbands are not members of the brotherhood, and much good is expected to result from that meeting. Tonight the brotherhood will hold a short session, at which a number of new members will be given initiation, and then will follow a social session in honor of the distinguished visitor, in which the wives and families of the firemen will participate. Refreshments will be served. Mr. Maier will leave the city at 3 o'clock tomorrow morning.

SOLDIERS PASS THROUGH.

The trains bearing the Tenth Pennsylvania regiment passed through the city last evening, the first one at 7:25 and the last one at 12 o'clock. The only accident on the western division was the breaking of a draw bar at Monroeville and the delay of the first section one hour. There were three passenger and a baggage train. An account of the arrival of the troops at Pittsburgh is given in our telegraphic columns.

HAD A GOOD TIME.

The Wabash shophmen and their friends arrived home from Detroit Saturday night at 12:30, well pleased with the excursion. Lake Erie was in a pleasant mood in the morning and the ride to Detroit was one of the most pleasant features of the excursion. Later in the day, however, a stiff breeze arose and when the excursion party started home they found the lake quite "choppy." Many of the excursionists became sea-sick and eight or ten of them lost their hats by having them blown overboard. No other unpleasant incidents occurred and taken as a whole the excursion may be said to be a most pleasant event.

NEW ENGINES ARRIVING.

Engine No. 771 arrived here this morning and is now in the Wabash shops being "connected up" and put in shape for business. This is the first delivery from the Richmond Locomotive works upon the order for thirty or forty locomotives recently placed by the Wabash company. No. 771 is a freight engine of the "Mogul" pattern, having six drivers. Delivery of engines will now be rapid until the entire contract has been filled. The work of getting the engines ready for service will greatly increase the round house work and the men there employed will have no reason for complaint on account of idleness.

PACKARD PICNIC.

The picnic given by the employees of the Packard Organ company at Robison park Saturday was largely attended and was a huge success. A five inning ball game, played by the men in the finishing and the machine departments resulted in a victory for the finishers by a score of 8 to 4.

The tub race was won by Louis Scherer alone and he was awarded first prize for paddling across the river and back. The other contestants, John Scherer and L. Fegle, did not have the right kind of tubs, so they backed out.

Following is a list of the other events and their results:

Fat men's race, 100 feet—D. Gordon won; J. L. Vierwerf second and G. Blondell third.

One-half mile bicycle race—Lee Yann, first; Roy Trainer, second; Ed Hudson third; time, 1:15.

One hundred yard dash—First run was a dead heat between Frank Castle, Cliff Moran and William Castle. The race was run over and the men finished as mentioned; time, 1:2 2-5.

One mile bicycle race—Ed Hudson, first; Roy Trainer, second; Lee Yann, third; time, 2:44.

Two mile bicycle race, handicap—Lee Hudson, first; Ed Hudson second; Roy Trainer, third; time, 5:58.

Boat race, one mile—P. Connelly, first; A. Simminger, second; Ed Castle, third; time, 12:58.

The City band furnished music during the afternoon, which added greatly to the pleasure of the day.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Captain Stoll accompanied the soldier trains to Pittsburgh.

Superintendent J. B. McKim, of the Pennsylvania, has gone to Denver, Col.

Clarence Sheeter began an apprenticeship in the Bass boiler shop this morning.

All the roads did a good business in the way of carrying Sunday excursionists yesterday.

Emil Such, of Rhinesmith & Z Simonsen's lumber yards, was taken sick this morning and had to quit work.

Charles Clark and John Boley, of the Wabash shops, went to the company's hospital at Peru yesterday. Both are sick.

The Bass company shipped two large boilers today to the Pittsburgh Steel Hoop company, the first on an order for eight boilers.

Gus Hobrock and S. F. Hanna, who were injured some time ago, resumed work in the Pittsburgh machine shop this morning.

H. E. Overly is no longer an employee of the Wabash, having resigned his position in the boiler shop. It is said he has a better position in view.

A. Benedict resumed his place in the Pittsburgh machine shop this morning, after a week's absence with the scale car, testing the company's scales.

Cliff P. Barrett, traveling passenger agent of the Mexican National railroad, is in this territory getting ready for next winter's tourist business. He spent Sunday in the city.

William Rempis has taken a position with Seimens-Halske at Chicago and went up to that city yesterday. He will operate a steam punch in the factory. Mr. Rempis was formerly employed in the electric works in this city.

The three great expositions that are to be held within the next four years are located at points on the Wabash—the Pan-American exposition at Buffalo in 1901, the Ohio centennial in 1902 at Toledo and the world's fair in St. Louis in 1903.

The Wabash in all its advertising has three red stars on its maps designating these places.

John Root, of the Pittsburgh blacksmith shop, is sick.

C. Walda, the city builder, is sick. He works for the Pittsburgh.

J. E. Smith, of the Pittsburgh shops, is visiting friends in Dixon, Ohio.

M. Gellert, a tinner, has gone to Lima, Ohio, to put a new roof upon the Pennsylvania passenger sheds.

F. J. Ryan, a machine operator, has taken a position in the Pittsburgh shops under Foreman E. Tagtmeyer.

John Fraine, of the Pittsburgh blacksmith shop, has returned from Marion, Ind., where he spent two weeks.

G. Reiber, who runs a wheel press in the Pittsburgh shops, is spending a week's vacation with friends in Chicago.

F. A. Weigand, a tinner in the Pittsburgh shops, has recovered from injuries received by his horse stepping upon his foot.

After being on the sick list one and two weeks respectively, Fred Ropa and J. A. Wise have resumed work in the Pittsburgh shops.

George Ebner, foreman of the Pittsburgh wreck crew, has taken a week's lay off. Next Wednesday his father and mother will celebrate their golden wedding and George has charge of the arrangements.

John Becker, trainmaster of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois, has resigned. It is stated that the relations between Mr. Becker and some of his superiors for some time have not been very pleasant, the trouble dating back to the strike on that road in 1894.

Herman Schultz, the contractor, was one of the losers by the flood of Friday night. He is engaged in digging an immense well, eight by twenty-eight feet, for the Bass works, and had attained a depth of fifteen feet. The water caused the banks to cave in.

Under the new pay schedule of the Big Four passenger engineers get $3.25 per 100 miles run and freight engineers $3.80 per 100 miles run. This is an advance on the old schedule of 5 cents per 100 miles run to freight engineers and 10 cents per 100 miles run to passenger engineers.

It was stated Saturday that the Missouri Pacific and the Wabash will meet the cut in packing house products to the southwest, announced by the Burlington to take effect on September 1. The Burlington threatens to wipe out the differential altogether if the terminal lines make any cut. A lively war seems unavoidable.

The American Car and Foundry company at Jeffersonville, Ind., is building some of the largest cars for general use ever constructed. There are two dining cars for the Southern railway that are seventy feet long, exclusive of the platforms. Each car has ten sills, making the bottoms almost solid. Two mail cars for the same road are sixty-five feet long and will weigh when completed 90,000 pounds. A sample furniture car being constructed is fifty feet long.

The Empire State express made a new record for itself on Wednesday between Syracuse and Buffalo, when engine 939, with the regular train of four cars, made the run in two hours and twenty minutes, including a stop at Rochester, an extra stop at East Buffalo and two slow-downs; distance, 149 miles. The run from Syracuse to Rochester, eighty-one miles, was made in seventy-one minutes, and from Rochester to Buffalo, sixty miles, in sixty minutes, including climbing the Byron hill.

This is the fastest trip ever made on the western division.

WAS FOUND DEAD IN BED.

CHAS. BUSCH, OF NEW HAVEN, DIED SUDDENLY.

He Lived Alone in a Cottage—Had Anticipated Death—No Known Relatives.

Sunday afternoon Sheriff Melching received a telephone message from New Haven informing him that the dead body of Charles Busch had been found in a bed at his home, where he lived alone. The sheriff sent word to Deputy Coroner C. E. Barnett and then went to New Haven on the 8:30 Nickel Plate train.

Neighbors of Mr. Busch, who was seventy-five years old, saw him about the yard Saturday afternoon, but Sunday he was not seen and the cottage remained closed all day. Late in the afternoon an entrance was gained to the house and Busch was found dead in bed. His body was in a sitting posture at the head of the bed and there were indications that he had suffered intensely. On a chair near the bed were his best clothes and some clean linen, which had probably been brought out in preparation for the usual Sunday change of clothing.

Deputy Coroner Barnett says that death resulted from general debility caused by the ravages of old age. He had often made the statement that he might die suddenly and expressed no fear of meeting his Maker. Only last week he commenced the preparation of papers which would have made Peter Schinkel administrator of his affairs. In his New Haven home was found some notes, $69.73 in cash, a $200 certificate of deposit on the Hamilton bank and a contract for the purchase of a piece of property in this city from Mrs. Fredericka Josse, now Mrs. Jacob Hiler.

Mr. Busch lived in Fort Wayne for a number of years, but after the death of his wife in 1893 he moved to New Haven and has since resided there. The remains were taken in charge by the New Haven undertaker after having been viewed by Deputy Coroner Barnett.

Peter Schinkel was this morning appointed administrator of the estate and he will make the arrangements for the funeral.

REVOLUTION WINS

SUCH IS REPORT FROM SANTO DOMINGO.

GOVERNMENT SURRENDERS

NO DETAILS HAVE YET BEEN RECEIVED.

REBELS WIN IN FIGHTING

NUMBER OF TOWNS FALL INTO INSURGENTS' HANDS.

New York, Aug. 28.—Andriano Grullon, the representative of Santo Dominican revolutionists in this country, has received the following cablegram:
"Santiago de Cuba, Aug. 27.—Revolution in capital. Government surrenders.
La Marche.
La Marche is the representative of the Jimenez revolutionists at Santiago de Cuba. No details have yet been received by Mr. Grullon.

OPPOSED TO GOVERNMENT.

Puert. Plata, Aug. 27, via Martinique, Aug. 28.—Although the city of Santiago de Los Caballeros has not surrendered to the revolutionists, the spirit of the townspeople is openly in opposition to the government. Here the government forces under General Juan Garrido are entrenched on two hills about eight kilometers from the city. Many sympathizers with the uprising left the city today to join the insurgents, among them Dr. Dionis. They were well equipped. Garrido's men are deserting. More than 100 men with their arms and supplies have gone over to the enemy.

The revolution advances rapidly in Monte Cristo, though without battles as yet. The revolutionists desire to avoid the shedding of blood. The crops are flourishing and the country people want the revolution to end quickly that the agriculture may not be harmed.

A GOVERNMENT DEFEAT.

Cape Haytien, Hayti, Aug. 28.—News from the republic of Santo Domingo shows that General Pepin, returning from succoring Santiago, was defeated by the Dominican revolutionists and obliged to retreat on Monte Cristo.

Mai, and a section of Gayces, have declared in favor of the revolution and the revolutionists are massing in those places, cutting off communication with Monte Cristo.

It is reported that General Patino, the minister sent by the Dominican government into the Cibao territory, seeing that the success of his mission was impossible, has joined the partisans of Jimenez, the leader of the revolution.

MARCHING ON CAPITAL.

Santo Domingo, Aug. 28.—Some of the revolutionists are headed by Ramon Calcaes and Horacio Vasquez. The towns of San Francisco de Macoris, La Vega Real and Cotuy are in the possession of the revolutionists, who are marching on this city. The government has sent a commission, composed of C. N. Moya, Leante, Vasquez Espallat, Pena and Reynoso, to meet and ascertain from the revolutionists what they want. Nothing will be done until the commission returns. Up to now not a single shot has been fired here. Should no agreements be made the government, it is said, "will take energetic steps and serious troubles may follow."

The United States cruiser New Orleans and the French cruiser Cecille are in port. Puerto Plata, Santiago, Moro and Monte Cristo are said here to be quiet. The Dominican warships are all at this port, but many leave at any moment.

The revolutionists, it is asserted, have not proclaimed any special candidate.

Telegraphic communications are generally interrupted.

NATIONAL BAR ASSOCIATION.

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 28.—Judges, statesmen and lawyers of national prominence, composing the American Bar association, met in the Aldermanic chamber of the common council today and were welcomed to the city by Sherman S. Rogers, of the local bar association, and Walter S. Logan, of the state bar association. In concluding his speech, Mr. Logan said: "I welcome you to the state of Governor Roosevelt—Roosevelt, the rough rider, and Roosevelt, the president of the civil service commission.

HAD A FIELD DAY.

WRITING EXPERTS HEARD IN DREYFUS CASE.

M. BERTILLON IS PULVERIZED

BULK OF TESTIMONY WAS IN FAVOR OF ACCUSED.

MERCIER IS YET IN RENNES

CAPTAIN FREYSTAETTER IS A MARKED MAN.

Rennes, Aug. 28.—When the fourth week of the second trial by court martial of Captain Alfred Dreyfus, of the artillery, charged with treason, opened in the Lycee building this morning General Mercier, who was minister of war when Dreyfus was first tried, in 1894, was present, as usual, in the front row of the witnesses' seats, thus definitely settling at rest the reports as to his having fled to the Island of Jersey and as to his arrest.

The first witness called today was M. Paray-Javal, the draughtsman, whose evidence was interrupted Saturday by the adjournment of the court.

M. Paray-Javal was called by the defense to refute the system by which M. Alphonse Bertillon, chief of the anthropometric department of the Paris prefecture of police, last week attempted to prove that the prisoner wrote the famous bordereau in a disguised hand and by means of a key word, "interest," and that it could not have been written by Esterhazy, although the document was in a handwriting resembling that of Esterhazy.

With the aid of a blackboard M. Paray-Javal demonstrated the fallacy of M. Bertillon's calculations and criticized the latter's unfairness in not subjecting Esterhazy's handwriting to the same tests as the prisoner's writing. At the same time the draughtsman declared that even if M. Bertillon had done so the results would not have proved anything.

FIELD DAY FOR EXPERTS.

In brief, the morning's session may be said to have been a field day for the handwriting experts, who devoted themselves to demolishing one another's evidence. The public followed the depositions listlessly, but the judges and counsel listened with the greatest attention.

General Mercier did not seem to be very cheerful today. He hardly said a word to General Gouze the whole morning, but during the brief suspension of the court's session he and General Gouze and Roget walked up and down the court yard of the Lycee, engaged in conversation.

General De Boisdeffre was not present in court today. He has been absent from the past few sessions and it is rumored here that he is desirous of leaving the sinking ship to the general staff.

The center of interest in the court yard was Captain Freystaetter, of the marine infantry, who testified so favorably to Dreyfus on Saturday and who seemingly gave the lie to Colonel Maurel, who was president of the court martial of 1894, in a most important feature of the latter's evidence.

The captain, dressed in a blue-black tunic, indigo blue trousers and wearing his five decorations, held a veritable reception of his friends, who pressed around him and shook his hand.

FREYSTAETTER OSTRACIZED.

These friends, however, were all civilians. Not a single uniformed officer spoke to him, which is the first fruit of his frankness and a clear indication of the determination of the military clique to ostracize him.

When the two first witnesses had testified and argued against M. Bertillon's system, it was the opinion of the sympathizers of Dreyfus that if the statements of the witnesses were correct they had simply pulverized M. Bertillon.

The latter wished to reply, but the president of the court, Colonel Jounist, declined to allow the specialist to go over his evidence again, taking the ground that the trial would never end if every expert did the same.

THE CLOWN OF THE SHOW.

An amusing scene followed. M. Bertillon pleaded that he had a personal statement to make and mounted the platform. But he had hardly uttered half a dozen words when Colonel Jounist saw he was merely regaining his evidence, and, to the great satisfaction of the audience, curtly told the specialist to leave the platform, which he did discomfited. M. Tessonier's testimony against Dreyfus followed, and then M. Chavary, the expert who had previously declared Dreyfus was the author of the bordereau, was called to the witness bar. His testimony proved to be of the greatest interest, as he came to confess he had made an error and said he was now convinced that Esterhazy, and not Dreyfus, wrote the bordereau. This announcement made a deep impression on the court and was greeted with a general murmur of satisfaction.

WHO WROTE THE BORDEREAU? The next expert, M. Pelletier, also testified favorably to Dreyfus.

M. Courard, another expert, then deposed that as the result of his examination he had become convinced that the bordereau was not written by Esterhazy, but he could not say it was written by Dreyfus, because he had not seen the prisoner's handwriting.

This witness kept the court in a continual roar of laughter by the extraordinary modulations of his voice, misplaced emphasis and gestures.

The final witness, M. Varinaud, maintained the declaration he had made before the court of cassation, that the bordereau was not written by Esterhazy.

Colonel Jounist then announced that M. De Freycinet, who resigned as minister of war May 6, of the present year, and who was succeeded by M. Krantz, who in turn was succeeded by General de Marquis de Gallifet on the downfall of the Dupuy ministry, would be among the witnesses tomorrow, and the session closed with a request that a rogatory commission be sent to Colonel Du Paty de Clam, whose illness prevents his attendance in court, to which Colonel Jounist agreed.

This step does not satisfy the defense, but they acquiesce to the commission taking Du Paty de Clam's testimony on the principle that half a loaf is better than no bread.

The court adjourned for the day at 11:50 o'clock a. m.

JOHN R. McLEAN IS MASTER.

IS IN CONTROL OF THE OHIO CONVENTION.

It is the Field Against Him and His

Only Real Competitor at Zanesville is Kilbourne.

Zanesville, Ohio, Aug. 28.—While there are only a few of the delegates here for the democratic convention, which meets here tomorrow and Wednesday, yet most of the candidates and their workers are on hand. The delegates will all be in tomorrow for conferences during the forenoon and the regular district meetings in the afternoon and the meetings of the committees in the evening.

A full state ticket is to be nominated, including candidates for governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general, auditor, treasurer, supreme judge and member of the board of public works.

For months there has been an animated contest in the eighty-eight counties for the nomination for governor between John R. McLean, Col. James Kilbourne, Congressman John J. Lentz, Gen. Isaac Sherwood, James A. Rice, Hon. Chas. T. Hesckell, Col. James P. Seward, Horace T. Chapman and others.

The contest was really between McLean and Kilbourne, as the delegates instructed for the others were also listed on second choices for either McLean or Kilbourne.

During the past week it has been the field against McLean, but the closing county conventions of last Saturday gave him such a lead that he has since been considered master of the situation. There are no differences over the platform.

ED. ROSS DIED SUDDENLY.

Al. Alter received a telegram this morning stating that Ed. Ross had dropped dead in St. George hotel at Evansville. Mr. Ross formerly lived here and for a number of years was steward at the Randall hotel. Later he conducted a restaurant in Montpelier and was employed in hotels in Chicago, Grand Rapids and at Winoona. He has been steward at the St. George since it was opened to the public five months ago. He was a member of the Fort Wayne lodge of Elks and was also a Scottish Rite Mason. The Masons have charge of the remains.

AMMUNITION WORTHLESS.

London, Aug. 28.—The St. James Gazette today says it learnt that a recent inspection by General Joubert, commander-in-chief of the Transvaal forces, disclosed the fact that nine-tenths of the reserve shells and cartridges in the Pretoria forts were inefficient and that an immediate order to remove the supply was placed in Europe.

DATO MUNDI FOND OF FIGHT

THRASHED A CROWD OF REBELS IN MINDANAO.

IS FRIENDLY TO AMERICANS

OTIS CONFIRMS REPORT OF AMBUSHED SOLDIERS.

Washington, Aug. 28.—A dispatch has been received at the war department from General Otis under date of Aug. 26th, stating that Dato Mundi, of Zamboanga, attacked and defeated the insurgents there on that date, killing thirty of them.

The dispatch, as given out at the war department, is much confused and the officials have been unable to ascertain just who Dato Mundi is. It is thought, however, he is one of the smaller chiefs. The text of the dispatch follows:

"Manila, Aug. 26.—Adjutant General. Washington.—Dato Mundi, Zamboanga, attacked and defeated insurgents there, killing thirty this date. Under Spaniards supervised Moros of entire southwestern peninsula, Mindanao Island. He visited General Bates at Jolo to give adhesion to United States.

"Bates returned him a small island near Zamboanga, where he requested permission to drive out insurgents, but was told that troops would be sent to Zamboanga soon. Insurgents there offered several weeks ago to turn over the city on promise of surrender in case Aguinaldo was successful in Luzon. Proposition declined. Dato Mundi able man, educated abroad, thoroughly loyal to American interests. Bates leaves the 30th to place troops in Sulu islands; will soon place troops at Zamboanga and Isabela, the naval station in the islands. Otis."

KILLED AND MUTILATED.

Washington, Aug. 28.—The following dispatch has been received from General Otis, dated yesterday: "Hughes, Iloilo, reports four soldiers ambushed, killed and mutilated a few miles south of city of Cebu; names not given; that robber bands of Negroes scattered and most of the members of same returning to work on sugar plantations; that armed Tagalos who had entered that island severely punished, and that conditions favorable for formation of civil government under military supervision has been directed; little change in Panaya and Cebu islands, withdrawal of volunteers and regulars discharged under order 4th, last year, has prevented active campaigns in those islands, which mediated reinforcements will cure."

KILLED WIFE AND SELF.

Towanda, Pa., Aug. 28.—At Athensburgh this morning Emmett Blanchard, thirty-eight years old, shot and killed an old man named Mingle and his own wife and then turned the revolver upon himself and committed suicide. About 7:30 Mrs. Blanchard was engaged in washing when Mingle came in the house for a pail of water. As he was leaving the premises Blanchard rushed out of the house and fired. His wife remonstrated and had not ceased speaking before she fell dead into the washbowl. Then Blanchard fired two shots into his own head, the first simply making a scalp wound.

QUIET AT DARIEN.

Darien, Ga., Aug. 28.—There has been no new developments in the negro riot since the arrest of John Delest Saturday afternoon. The First regiment of Georgia volunteers is still quartered here. The leading negroes of Darien have circulated a paper calling on every negro of the county to lay down arms, cease all defiant or abusive language and use every effort to preserve order and peace. No further trouble is expected, but the troops will remain while a special term of court, which convenes Wednesday, is held to try Delest and the rioters.

REFUSED TO MANDATE.

In the superior court this morning Judge Dawson sustained the defendant's demurrer to the complaint in the case of the Allen County Orphans' Home vs. M. F. Schmelzer, township trustee, and the plaintiff refused to plea further. Judge Dawson then rendered judgment on the demurrer. Hon. T. E. Ellison, attorney for the directors of the orphans' home, gave notice of appeal to the supreme court. The case was one in which the directors of the home attempted to compel the trustee, by mandate to build a school house for the inmates of the county orphans' home. G. T. Fells was Mr. Schmelzer's attorney.

ATTEMPTED TO SEIZE THRONE.

Victoria, B. C., Aug. 28.—The steamer Tacoma brings news of a recent attempt to seize the throne of Korea made by an alleged member of the old royal family, Wang Eui Soo. He has been in exile since his birth. He returned to Seoul on May 2, at once made himself known at the royal palace and declared himself the rightful king. He was arrested, but so unusual were his actions that the court physicians adjudged him insane and he was liberated, but immediately afterward rearrested by order of Lady Mo, the power behind the throne of the kingdom. He was sentenced to death and was decapitated.

WILL SUMMON THE SENATE.

M. DEROULEDE TO BE TRIED FOR CONSPIRACY.

French Cabinet About Determined to Have That Body Sit as a High Court.

Paris, Aug. 28.—The cabinet has almost determined to summon the senate to sit as a high court for the trial of M. Paul De Roulede, member of the chamber of deputies and president of the League of Patriots, and the other prisoners recently arrested on the charge of conspiring against the government. It is believed that the decree summoning the senate to meet for this purpose will be signed at an early meeting of the council.

STREET CAR HITS CYCLIST.

CARL SUMMERS HAS A VERY NARROW ESCAPE.

Collides With a Street Car at Wells and Sixth Streets and is Painfully Injured.

Carl Summers, a lad 14 years of age, who resides at 41 Putnam street, had a narrow escape from death at noon today. Summers is employed at the Centlivre brewery, and with a companion was riding to dinner on his wheel. The young men came down Sixth street to Wells, and as they turned north a buggy hid young Summers' view of the street car, which was approaching from the north. He turned to pass around the buggy and as he reached the truck the car struck the front wheel of his cycle, throwing the lad to the ground with fearful force.

Those who saw the accident rushed to the boy and carried him into the Bloomingdale mills, where he received after a time and was taken to his home.

The lower portion of both legs are badly bruised and about the knees the injuries are particularly severe. The left arm is also injured. Dr. E. J. McOscar was summoned and says it is impossible at this time to determine the precise extent of the injuries. A fortunate feature of the affair is that the lad was thrown away from the car instead of beneath it. His bicycle is a wreck.

AFEDAVIT AND INFORMATION.

A. H. Bittinger, attorney for the Good Citizens' League, this afternoon filed two affidavits and information in the circuit court, charging the Fort Wayne and Springfield base ball players with unlawfully engaging in a game of base ball where an admission fee of twenty-five cents was charged and paid by the spectators. The affidavits are sworn to by Rev. Samuel H. Cain, pastor of the Emmanuel Baptist church.

GIVEN A DIVORCE.

Judge Dawson this morning heard the evidence in the divorce suit of Lovell R. Foster vs. William B. Foster and granted the plaintiff a decree. The complaint alleged desertion, the husband having abandoned his wife almost nine years ago.

A WELCOME HOME

TENTH PENNSYLVANIA BOYS IN PITTSBURG.

A GRAND DEMONSTRATION

HALF A MILLION PEOPLE SAW THEM ON PARADE.

WORDS OF THE PRESIDENT.

THE FLAG TO STAY IN THE PHILIPPINES.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 28.—With cannon booming, bells clanging, whistles shrieking, flags waving and mighty cheers from hundreds of thousands of throats, the brave Tenth Pennsylvania volunteers were welcomed home today, after more than a year's gallant service in the Philippines. The reception tendered the returning soldiers will always be remembered in this city as one of the greatest demonstrations of patriotism that has ever taken place in this country. A fund of $55,000, donated by the generous citizens of Pittsburg and the surrounding towns, permitted the committee who had the affair in charge to make lavish preparations for the home coming and nothing was left undone that would show the "Fighting Tenth" how well their services for their country in a foreign land were appreciated by the residents of their native state.

OLD COMMANDER ABSENT.

The only thing lacking to make the day one of supreme happiness, was the absence of the brave and well beloved Colonel Hawkins, who led the boys in all of their battles and shared in all of their sufferings, but who was denied the privilege of marching at their head when they returned home to receive the plaudits of a grateful people.

The day opened threatening and lowering clouds hung over the city, but long before the arrival of the trains carrying the troops the clouds had disappeared and the sun was shining brightly.

The crowds that lined the streets along the route of the parade from the parks in Allegheny to the reviewing stands in Schenley park was almost beyond counting.

HALF A MILLION PEOPLE.

Good judges estimate the number at no less than 500,000. This is not regarded as too high, and the attraction certainly warranted it.

Besides the fact that the soldiers, fresh from the scenes of victory were to be in the parade, which in itself was a memorable sight, it was also known that President McKinley, Mrs. McKinley, Major General Merritt, Major General Francis V. Greene and others prominent in national and state affairs were in the city. The arrangements which had been made for the parade could not have been improved upon.

Although the people from the surrounding counties began literally "pouring" into the city soon after the dawn of day, the police had made such preparations that the influx did not create any throng so as to interfere with the line of march. From the point of starting in Allegheny, over 2,000 officers enrolled for the occasion from the different municipal departments of the two cities were located along the line at certain intervals and in this manner the immense concourse of onlookers was kept well under control.

LAVISH DECORATIONS.

The decorations of the streets and buildings were overwhelmingly rich and gorgeous and the five miles over which the parade took place was practically an unbroken line of flags, flowers, festoons and bunting. The reviewing stand of President McKinley and his staff of notables in Schenley park was a magnificent work of art composed of silk plush and damask, all blended tastefully in the colors of the national emblem.

The reception to the Philippine heroes began shortly after 12 o'clock, the train having been delayed nearly five hours. A committee of prominent Pennsylvanians welcomed them as soon as they crossed the borders of the state.

After brief exercises and a hearty breakfast tendered by the citizens of New Brighton, the regiment was rushed into Allegheny. The train came in three sections and immediately after the soldiers had disembarked the line of march to Schenley park, where the exercises were to be held, was taken up.

THE PARADE.

The parade moved at 3 o'clock in the following order:

Fort Wayne made it three victories out of four games played with the Springfielders by landing Saturday's and Sunday's games without any particular effort. Guese was at his best Saturday and after scoring one run in the first inning, not another visitor reached home, while the Hoosiers clinched up seven runs. Four hits were made off "Whitey."

There were more than 1,000 people at the park yesterday to see the final game of the series. Fred Wienig, Glasscock's new twirler, was in the box and pitted against him was Wolf, the young man who twirled the game Fort Wayne last Thursday. Wienig did not have the best of control, especially when the catcher stood back, but with Bergen up behind him he generally settled down and the result was only three bases on balls and four strike-outs. The three men who walked all scored. Seven hits were made by the Springfielders, but two of these came in the fourth after Tim Flood had missed a chance to make an easy double play. Wolf was not as effective as in the game he pitched last week and at no time did it appear that the Hoosiers might lose, except at the end of the first half of the fourth inning, when four Governors trickled over the plate. In the second half, however, Fort Wayne scored six runs and "crushed" the game. Here is the score:

TOLEDO'S MAIL.

The Toledo Bee, in a long wail about Toledo's standing in the Interstate league, prints the following: "When the last game of the present season is played Toledo patrons will probably have seen the last of the Interstate league. Manager Strobel is in a position where he can withdraw and undoubtedly will do so. The reason for this is very obvious. Toledo is now the mainstay in a league that wouldn't have lasted past the Fourth of July without the Toledo gate money. In spite of this fact, there has always been a disposition on the part of certain pennut managers and eight-dollar-a-week 'journalists' to give the 'golden goose' the gash that would separate it from its wind."

These assertions are the merest rot.

and drivel. Toledo may have been the mainstay of the Interstate league in seasons gone by, but in 1899 it was no better than Fort Wayne and as between the two young Mr. Strobel admitted while here that Fort Wayne was drawing better than Toledo. Although Fort Wayne played a Sunday game in Toledo and the Mud Hens played one here, Fort Wayne paid to Mr. Strobel much more money than he gave to Fort Wayne. Toledo is a good base ball city for the Interstate and as long as he stays in the league that long will Mr. Strobel prosper, but if he ever attempts to trot in the same league with Comiskey, Mack, Manning, Loftus, Vaudebeck and Galt he will wish himself back in his little "gold mine" league. Never mind about Strobel. He is smart and won't kill the goose that lays the golden egg. And the writer of the Bee article, because he secures probably $11 a week, takes a fling at the reporters in the smaller cities, everyone of whom knows more about the game than the Bee man could guess in a year. The Bee article has all the ear marks of having been written by the society editors.

BATTING AVERAGES.

There was considerable change in the batting averages of the Fort Wayne players during the past week. Babb fell down woefully and is now only thirteen points over the .300 mark. Glasscock dropped two points. Tom Letcher dropped two and "Doggie" Miller gained one. Tim Flood fell five points, while Belden and "Whitey" Guese made the biggest gains. If Belden keeps up the pace another week he will have a standing about equal to that of Tim Flood. Gillen gained sixteen points. Here are the averages for the season:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

The Fort Waynes went to Youngstown over the Nickel Plate last night and will today begin a series of four games in three days. The game to-day is a postponed game. Toledo is playing in New Castle and Mansfield has Springfield as opponents.

Jess Burkett made seven hits in the two games played in St. Louis yesterday.

Bob Gilks left Fort Wayne intending to win five straight from Dayton. Instead he lost two of the five.

Torreyson lost nothing by transferring the games from Springfield to Fort Wayne. He carried away $330.

Belden, after a fast and long sprint, dropped a short fly in the ninth inning yesterday after two were out. The next man was an easy out and Belden's error cost nothing.

"Chick" Stahl has a batting average of .354. He is credited with 144 base hits and twenty-three stolen bases. Hickman leads the big league with an average of .413 in nineteen games. Burkett is second and Deleahanty third, both of them batting better than .400.

Bob Carruthers said last night he had never umpired in a city where he was given such fair treatment as in Fort Wayne. He is a first-class umpire, knows all the points of the game and better than all, does not allow the players to run the game. President Power can well afford to retain him for next season.

When the team left for Youngstown last night Sample and Hollingsworth did not accompany the other players, Manager Glasscock having decided to leave them at home. Early this morning Hollingsworth received a telegram to report at once. In the game yesterday Gillen hurt himself at second base and it is believed that his leg was so sore this morning that Glasscock deemed it best to let him rest and play "Holly" at short. He will not arrive in Youngstown in time for today's game and it is possible Glasscock will go to short and Guese play first bag.

FILIPINO MAYORS TRAITORS.

FOUND TO BE IN LEAGUE WITH INSURGENTS.

Civic Officials Placed in Power by the Army Helping Aguinaldo—Native Treachery.

Manila, Aug. 22, via Hong Kong, Aug. 28.—Recent events have proved somewhat discouraging to officials who are trying to accompany war with a policy of conciliation. Two new municipal governments have collapsed through the treachery of the mayors.

Today the mayor of San Pedro Macati, who was elected by the people under the direction of Professor Denn Worcester, of the United States advisory commission for the Philippines, was brought to Manila and lodged in jail. The United States officials at San Pedro Macati found that he was using his office as a recruiting station for the Philippine army. Four disguised insurgent officers were helping him.

CARRY NEWS TO INSURGENTS.

The mayor of Baliuag was also arrested and confined in the same prison. The Americans caught him passing between the lines of the two armies with incriminating documents, which the authorities secured. Another prominent native mayor is under surveillance.

When the result of the election at Imus, which General Lawton and Professor Worcester engineered, was announced, the Americans inquired as to the whereabouts of the people's choice and were informed that he was in prison at Bilid, where the authorities had placed him on suspicion of being a revolutionist. He was released and installed as mayor.

Such events and conditions tend to give color to the assertions of foreign residents acquainted with the native character, who insist that a great majority of the natives sympathize with the insurgents and elect officials whom they know to be revolutionists.

OMINOUS SIGNS AT MANILA. For two weeks Manila has been policed at night with unusual vigilance. Apparently the authorities are expecting trouble. The trend of affairs tend to make the policy of leniency unpopular among the Americans. When they abandoned Morong they burned the whole town.

Colonel Smith, of the Twelfth infantry, who is in command at Angeles, is skeptical regarding Filipino friendliness. Instead of allowing the natives to return to the town as heretofore, he has ordered his troops to shoot all men trying to pass the lines and to turn back the women and children.

He recently gave the amigues in the town an opportunity to prove their professed friendship, putting them to work at digging trenches and cleaning streets, but this only displeased them. The foremost citizen of Angeles, a lawyer who had welcomed the Americans with a great show of cordiality, was found communicating with the insurgents. The Americans promptly marched him off to San Fernando to stand trial.

A WELCOME HOME

Reception Committee in Carriages.

AT SCHENLEY PARK.

Upon reaching Schenley park the column was reviewed by President McKinley, after which he proceeded to the music pavilion, where the exercises were held. Seats had been provided for 25,000 friends and relatives of the members of the "Tenth" in front of the music pavilion, but these were filled long before the exercises began and thousands were unable to secure even standing room within hearing distance.

After music by the Economy band, Major Lee S. Smith called the meeting to order, and Rev. T. N. Boyd, delivered the invocation.

GOVERNOR STONE'S ADDRESS.

Governor William A. Stone was then introduced as chairman of the meeting and delivered an address of welcome in behalf of the state, in the course of which he said:

"You return to a land overflowing with prosperity, which is nowhere greater than right here in your own homes, and this condition is due to the courage and wise statesmanship of William McKinley, who is here to honor and welcome you. Your services in the Philippines grew out of a war which was not waged to acquire territory, but for the sole purpose of assisting a downtrodden people. This war was attended throughout by such humane action on the part of this country as to win the praise of the world. There is not a nation on the globe that does not justify our action. Spain's oppression of Cuba had instilled such a sentiment of sympathy into our minds that we could no longer refuse aid."

DO NOT WANT TERRITORY.

"The result of the war has left problems with which we must deal in the future. We much prefer to see these countries govern themselves but we must not forget that we are responsible to the civilized world for their government. Any government that they might devise which would guarantee protection to life, liberty and property would be gladly sustained by us. We desire neither their revenue or their territory, but we will not shrink from our mission. The flag planted in the Philippines in the cause of humanity must be respected by all."

AS LONG AS MEN ARE IN ARMS.

"As long as men are in arms against it we will continue to send men and money to those islands to subdue that hostility. We are pledged to subdue that rebellion and uphold the hands of the president."

THE PRESIDENT'S WORDS.

At the conclusion of Governor Stone's address President McKinley was introduced, and after the applause had ceased, spoke as follows: "Governor Stone and My Fellow Citizens—I am glad to participate with the families, friends and fellow citizens of the Tenth Pennsylvania volunteers in this glad reunion. You have earned the plaudits not alone of the people of Pennsylvania but of the whole nation. Your return has been the signal for a great demonstration of popular regard from your landing in the Golden Gate on the Pacific to your homecoming, and here you find a warmth of welcome and a greeting from joyous hearts which tell better than words the estimate of your countrymen and their high appreciation of the services you have rendered the country. You have made secure and permanent the victory of Dewey. You added new glory to the American arms. You and your brave comrades engaged on other fields of conflict have enlarged the map of the United States and extended the jurisdiction of American liberty."

GRIEF TEMPERED JOY.

"But while we share in the joy that is yours, there remain with us softened and hallowed memories of those who went forth with you not found in your ranks today. Your noble colonel, devoted to his men, beloved by his command, and respected by his superior officers, gave his life to his country with many others of his comrades. The nation sorrows with the bereaved. These heroes died for their country and there is no nobler death."

"Our troops represented the courage and conscience, the purpose and patriotism of their country. Whether in Cuba, Porto Rico or the Philippines, or at home awaiting orders, they did their full duty and all sought the post of greatest peril. They never faltered. The Eighth army corps in the Philippines have made a proud and exceptional record. Privileged to be mustered out in April, when the ratifications of the treaty of peace were exchanged, they did not claim the privilege—they declined it. They voluntarily remained in the service and declared their purpose to stay until their places could be filled by new levies, and longer if the government needed them. Their service—and they understood it—was not to be in camp or garrison, free from danger, but on the battle line, where exposure and death confronted them and where both have exacted their victims."

STEADFAST TO DUTY.

"They did not stack arms. They did not run away. They were not serving the insurgents in the Philippines or their sympathizers at home. They had no part or patience with the men, few in number happily, who would have rejoiced to have seen them lay down their arms in the presence of an enemy whom they had just emancipated from Spanish rule and who should have been our firmest friends. They furnished an example of devotion and sacrifice which will brighten the glorious record of American valor. They have secured not alone the gratitude of the government and the people, but for themselves and their descendants an imperishable distinction. They may not fully appreciate, and the country may not, the heroism of their conduct and its important support to the government. I think I do and I am here to express it."

The truce and treaty were not concluded. The first blow was struck by the insurgents. Our kindness was reciprocated with cruelty, our mercy was invoked only to be dishonored. Our soldiers were shot down when ministering to the wounded Filipinos. Our humanity was interpreted as weakness, our forbearance as cowardice."

WILL BE NO MORE PARLEYING.

"They assailed our sovereignty, and there will be no useless parley—no pause until the insurrection is suppressed and American authority acknowledged and established. The misguided followers in rebellion have only our charity and pity. As to the cruel leaders who have needlessly sacrificed the lives of thousands of their people, at the cost of some of our best blood, for the gratification of their own ambitious designs, I will leave to others the ungracious task of justification and eulogy. Every one of the noble men, regulars or volunteers, soldiers or seamen, who thus signally served their country in its extremity deserves the special recognition of congress, and it will be to me an unfeigned pleasure to recommend for each of them a special medal of honor."

MORE MEN AND MUNITIONS.

"While we give you hail and greeting from overflowing hearts,

These Filipino mayors who have gone back on their oaths have some American prototypes from whom they have evidently been getting tips.

With Millionaire Hanna supremely interested in the republican ticket and Millionaire McLean leading the democratic ticket, prosperity seems likely to strike Ohio politicians square in the solar plexus.

New York is in a fever of impatience for the arrival of Admiral Dewey and there is evident danger that, like the small boy who gets premature possession of his Fourth of July fireworks, Gotham will touch the match to her celebration some days before the hero arrives.

The willingness of Sir Wilfrid Laurier to accept, after all, the invitation extended by the Chicago festival committee to visit that city in October means either the subsidence of the political storms in Canada or else that the Canadian premier has had a sudden accession of courage. Incidentally it reminds citizens of this country that the Alaskan boundary question is not yet settled.

One explanation from Washington—which is the place, by the way, whence comes all such explanations—of why General Miles endorses General Otis is that if any one else goes to Manila and conducts a successful campaign he will be made lieutenant general of the United States army. General Miles, according to this story, is convinced that he would not be sent in any event, and fears that if Otis were recalled Merritt would be sent and win the plum.

Gen. B. F. Tracy, who is now in Europe and has attended sessions of the Dreyfus trial, says it is conducted more like a desultory conversation in a club than anything else. Members of the numerous New York clubs to which the general belongs will doubtless wonder which one of them he is thinking of. The distinguished lawyer further says: "No rules of evidence are observed. In the United States the primary rule is that the best kind of evidence must be given. Here a witness quotes from a letter instead of the court producing the writer of the letter. No guiding principles are observed to make it a serious, well conducted trial."

Tennessee has proved her good sense by her treatment of men from that state who have seen service in the Spanish-American war. A committee has been appointed to secure good business positions for members of the Tennessee regiment honorably discharged from the service. This is considerably more practical than brass bands, banquets and bouquets, and there is no doubt that the men themselves will like it better. One of the sacrifices which the volunteer soldier often makes when he enlists is in giving up a good place, which, perhaps, he has earned by several years of hard work. Often this place is kept for him, so that on his return from the war he can step into it at once; but sometimes it is not. There are also many volunteers who were unemployed at the time of enlistment, but are fully competent to fill positions if the places can be found, and who will be all the better workmen for their rough experience in the field. This Tennessee movement is a good one.

Thomas Taggart has been renominated for mayor of Indianapolis by the democrats and has accepted. He has twice been elected to that office. Mr. Taggart did not want to be a candidate for a third term, but party pressure was seemingly too strong for him and he has consented and will go into the campaign with his usual energy in all things political. It looks as though Indianapolis democrats were unjust to their leader. Failing health, a recent bereavement and business considerations united to make him wish to retire for a time at least to private life. These urgencies, it would seem, ought to be respected. It is argued, of course, that Mr. Taggart has already had twelve years of office in Marion county, eight as county auditor and four as mayor of the city, and many democrats point to this as placing him under obligations to his party when he is particularly needed as a candidate. However it may be looked at, Mr. Taggart has consented to have no other try at the mayoralty and personal considerations now become Mr. Taggart's strictly private affairs. His wide and growing popularity as well as his undiminished strength in his party is notable. In the state democrats generally will be pleased to see him again heading the democratic ticket in the capital city.

Mayor Scherer will either stop the gambling going on in this city or he will not. If he does not stop it, then that species of lawlessness goes on with his consent and approval. He cannot plead ignorance of the condition. It is known to him, through his police department and through the newspaper which is presumed to speak for the administration. As we pointed out at the time of a recent spasmodic move against the gamblers, "raids" made merely to quiet public criticism will deceive nobody, and if such raids are made in good faith no good can come from the manner of them. The police are empowered by law to confiscate and destroy all gambling paraphernalia found in gambling rooms. Why is this not done? The mayor cannot run away from his responsibility in this matter. If he permits gambling and all-night and all-Sunday saloons, it is because he is indifferent to his oath and faithless to the people, or because he prefers a lawless condition and regards the interests of the gamblers and law-breaking saloonkeepers as superior to the moral interests of the city which he thus misrules. Mayor Scherer can take no half-way stand. He cannot be both good lord and good devil. He must be right or he must be wrong. He must lay the law on the gamblers or he must lie down to them. If he does not scourge them, they will cause him to be scourged. If indifference only it is, amounts to the infamy of a league with it.

BADLY CUT WITH SCISSORS.

WILLIAM RILEY STABBED JOHN PONTIUS IN ABDOMEN.

The Internal Organs Were Lacerated and the Wound is a Dangerous One.

William Riley, an engineer whose home is in Garrett, Ind., is in the Allen county jail charged with assault and battery with intent to kill. Saturday night he was about Harry Gilbert's saloon and there met John Pontius, well known about town. The men engaged in a quarrel and were separated once or twice. Finally Riley left the place and claims that Pontius followed him. There was another quarrel and the men were about to come to blows when Riley pulled a pair of scissors, such as are used to trim finger nails, and struck at Pontius. The scissors struck him in the upper part of the abdomen. For a few minutes it was not believed Pontius was seriously cut. Dr. J. E. Miller was called and found that the scissors had penetrated the intestines and almost severed the canal in one place. He was removed to St. Joe hospital, where he is under the tender care of the Sisters of Providence. Pontius' condition was quite serious last night and it appeared as if he might die, but there was some improvement this morning and the doctor believes now he may recover. Pontius is a married man and lives on Lafayette street.

Riley, who is almost fifty years of age, was arraigned before Mayor Scherer on a charge of assault and battery with intent to kill. He did not deny the cutting, but claimed he was compelled to stab Pontius in self-defense. The preliminary hearing was set for Wednesday morning and Riley held in $1,000 bail, in default of which he is now in jail.

NORTHERN INDIANA NOTES.

Professor S. K. Ganiard, superintendent of schools at Lima, will wed Miss Lillian Miller, also of Lima, August 31.

Bram Ray, twelve-year-old son of George M. Ray, of Warsaw, has been missing from home since July 7th, and nothing is known of his whereabouts.

Pickpockets reaped a harvest at Bluffton during the performance of a wild west show. Simon Helrick, a farmer, was relieved of $140 in cash while standing at the ticket wagon.

W. J. Jackman is under arrest at Warsaw charged with arson. It is said that he set fire to the Gerard restaurant in that city, causing a heavy loss, on the evening of August 16th.

A dispatch from North Judson says the Inter-State Oil company has leased a tract of 38,000 acres of land for the development of oil fields. Five wells just completed are flowing at the rate of twenty barrels daily. The Inter-State company will expend $100,000 in operating the fields.

The will of the late William Whittenberger, of Rochester, has been probated. One of the bequests provides for the erection of a Methodist church at Akron, and forty acres of valuable land is set aside for this purpose. The remainder of the property, consisting largely of real estate, goes to the aged widow.

Charles B. Holmes, a pioneer of Lagrange county, is dead at his home in Lagrange. He was seventy-seven years old. Mr. Holmes moved to Lagrange from Ohio in 1844, opened the first store, was appointed the first postmaster and was the first justice of the peace elected. He was prominent in political and Masonic circles.

Harry Clark, for many years an employe of the offices of the Baltimore & Ohio Railway company at Garrett, was cut to pieces Saturday. He was preparing for the first time to take a run as brakeman on a through freight, and was struck by a train coming from an opposite direction while standing on the track. He leaves a wife and parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Dunkle, of Cedar Island, Cass county, the former eighty years old and the latter nearly seventy-five, have separated, she leaving the home and driving away their only cow. Mr. Dunkle says his wife became jealous of him two years ago when she had the grip. They lived in Cass county since 1864, and reared a family of nine children, four of whom are living. Mr. Dunkle is a civil war veteran.

Miss Wilson, adopted daughter of Attorney James Arthur, of North Manchester, says Frank Rupert has cast a powerful spell over her which she cannot resist. Twice she has cloped with Rupert and has been taken home by her adopted father. The first time they were overhauled at Kendallville and the girl returned home. Soon Rupert reappeared in North Manchester and the girl cloped with him. They were found in the woods near Decatur by an officer sent by the girl's father. Miss Wilson is a handsome girl of much intelligence.

The largest public sale ever held in Indiana will take place September 14 at Pennville. All the personal property of the late Adeline Lupton, the Pennville banker, is to be sold by the executors of the estate. In the list are 1,500 heads of sheep, 3,000 heads of hogs, 65 two and three-year-old steers, 25 head of fat cattle, 30 milch cows, 20 spring calves, 25 head of horses, 1,000 bushels of oats, 200 acres of corn in the field, 25 tons of baled hay, five well-bred bucks, a lot of farming implements and a new stock of goods consisting of 14 buggies, 15 sets of single harness, one set of double harness, eight breaking plows, halters, collars, collar pads, whips, lap robes and many other articles.

AGAINST SUNDAY BASE BALL.

PROTESTS FILED WITH CITY AND COUNTY OFFICERS.

Fifteen Members of the Good Citizens' League Signed It.

New Developments.

The Good Citizens' League tried a new plan yesterday in its efforts to stop Sunday base ball. Attorney A. H. Bittenger, who has been employed by the league, filed with Mayor Scherer, Sheriff Melching and Superintendent Gersline the following notice and protest:

"The undersigned citizens and residents of Allen county, Indiana, respectfully inform you that the Fort Wayne and Springfield base ball clubs have publicly advertised that they intend to play a game of base ball on their grounds, at the north end of Calhoun street, and within the corporate limits of the city of Fort Wayne, in Allen county, Indiana, on Sunday, August the 27th, 1899, under the rules adopted for the playing of base ball games.

"We further protest that the league clubs, of which the Fort Wayne club is one of the number, have heretofore unlawfully disregarded and violated section 2087, of the revised statutes of the state of Indiana, prohibiting the playing of base ball on Sunday, and said Fort Wayne club has been found guilty of the violation of said law.

"We therefore, as citizens and residents of the city of Fort Wayne, and of Allen county, Indiana, protest against the violation of said law, and request and demand that you, the sheriff of Allen county, and a conservator of the peace by virtue of your office as sheriff, prevent the unlawful assembling of said base ball clubs on their grounds for the purpose of playing base ball as aforesaid, and that you arrest all persons who may assemble, with intent to violate said law, and for which we will ever pray.

"Fort Wayne, Ind., Aug. 20, '99." The protests are signed by G. W. Maxwell, A. S. Coverdale, C. H. Jenness, D. Shordon, John Gilbert, G. T. Parry, W. E. Mossman, William Carter, S. F. Rowzer, F. H. Starkel, E. W. Dishro, J. A. Bookwalter, David Little, F. A. McMaken, A. Z. Polhaus.

At first, it is understood, that the officers were inclined to interfere, but finally decided that the game should go unmolested, except that it is possible one of the officers may file affidavits in one of the justice courts, but even this may not be done. The Good Citizens' league had a purpose in filing the above protest which may develop within the next few days.

STRICKEN BY PARALYSIS.

Daniel Williams, a salesman for the Maumee Steam and Hot Water Heating company, suffered a stroke of paralysis while alone in the company's establishment, 38 Harrison street, Saturday evening. Other employes had gone home leaving Mr. Williams at work. Without a moment's warning the stroke came and he fell prostrate to the floor, where for two hours he lay helpless, unable to attract the attention of a passer-by. Williams' entire left side had been affected and he could not speak. About the only movement possible during those two awful hours was to exp upon the floor with his right hand, and this he did almost constantly. Finally a gentleman passing happened to look in and saw the prostrate man. He entered the store and assisted Williams to a chair. Dr. Galvin was called and the patient removed to his home, 57 Walnut street. He is much improved, and it is believed will entirely recover.

Leading Legal Lights of America and England
to Meet at Buffalo.

BY HOWARD SPENCE SINGLAI.

Some of the most prominent lawyers in this country and representatives of the legal profession from other countries will gather in Buffalo early in September to attend the conference of the American Bar association and the International law association.

The names and reputations of many of the leading American delegates are well known. The English representatives, however, are men who have seldom if ever crossed the ocean. At each of these conferences England is represented by some of her best lawyers. Lord Chief Justice Russell was a delegate to one of these gatherings a year or two ago.

This year the English delegation is headed by the Hon. Sir William Rann Kennedy, justice of the queen's bench division, high court of justice. He will read a paper before the American Bar association and deliver the inaugural address as chairman of the eighteenth conference of the International Law association.

Justice Kennedy is a Cambridge man and has an honorable record at the university as a medal winner and senior classic. He was called to the bar at Lincoln's Inn and, entering into active practice in Liverpool, made a specialty of maritime and commercial law. He wrote a learned work on "Law of Civil Salvage," which has been accepted as a standard treatise on a complex branch of law. In politics he was an earnest Liberal and unsuccessfully contested Birkenhead in two elections and subsequently St. Helens, but has never succeeded in entering parliament. After "taking silk" in London he was appointed to the queen's bench by Lord Herschell.

Justice Kennedy is one of the youngest men on the queen's bench, being in his fifty-fourth year and at the maturity of his powers. As a barrister

HON. SIR WILLIAM RANN KENNEDY.
He had a wide range of practice, and on the bench he has proved himself to be a sound, conservative jurist.

His scholarly tastes, which were developed at Cambridge, have enabled him to write a standard work of law and have also interested him in those abstract questions which are considered at international law conferences. He will provide with keen intelligence and stately dignity over the Buffalo conference, for he is pre-eminently a student of commercial and international law.

Accompanying Justice Kennedy will be Mr. Joseph Walton, Q. C. He was educated at the Jesuit college of Stonyhurst. A sincere Roman Catholic in religion and an uncompromising realist in politics, he has not secured a place on the English bench to which his eminent talents as a barrister have entitled him. He practiced for several years in Liverpool, the great school of English commercial law, and is one of the leaders of the English bar, with an immense practice in London.

In his own specialty, which is maritime and company law, he is a strong advocate, with remarkable lucidity of mind, and he is one of the most genial men in the profession. He will take an important part in the discussions of the conference of international law and will also read a paper on "Legal Education" before the American Bar association.

Another delegate is Mr. Thomas Gilbert Carver, Q. C., who will take an active part in the Buffalo conference. He took high rank at St. John's college, Cambridge, and practiced law for 17 years in Liverpool before going to London, where he has won a great reputation in commercial and maritime cases.

Mr. Carver's chief interest in the conference lies in the adoption of a new code of rules in marine insurance, by which American, English and continental practice may be brought into accord and uniformity without legislation. The system which he advocates deals with points on which serious differences occur in the law and practice of maritime countries and if the proposed rules are incorporated in policies will operate by contract, like the York-Antwerp rules, to prevent conflicts in marine insurance law.

Mr. Carver took a prominent part in the last conference of the International Law association, and he will explain his new rules at both meetings to be held in Buffalo. If he is properly supported by the leading companies as well as the delegates, the insurance laws of the world may be simplified and reformed by the application of the Buffalo rules to the contracts of marine policies.

"Why doesn't he come to me? What's the trouble with him? No sense?"
"No, daddy; no dollars!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

THE TURF REVIEW.

A California trotter, by Conductor, 2:14½, has been named "Ticket."
"Knipsack" McCarty is confident that he can drive Sunlight a mile in two minutes this fall.

Keen, 2:13½, trotting, and Toulia F, 2:11½, pacing, are a brace of new ones by Kneel, 2:13½.

Alto Rio, a green brother of Chehalis, 2:01½, at work at San Jose, Cal., is showing miles in 2:14.

Only half a second now stands between that wonderful 4-year-old, The Maid, 2:03½, and the mare's pacing record.

Arbuckle, 2:00½, is now wearing the hobbles. It is said that he has shown a half in one minute, and a quarter in 29½ seconds.

Joe Thayer drove his 2-year-old, The Tramp, by Jay Bird, in 2:14½ at Lexington July 29 and his 4-year-old Ulster, by Simmons, in 2:14.

At Cleveland W. L. Snow made a new driving record. He drove two pacers, Hal B, 2:04½, and Ananias, 2:05, into the 2:05 list in the same week.

Joe Patchen, 2:01½, has all his speed. In the mile he worked at Columbus recently in 2:06. He paced the last half in 1:00½ and last quarter in 29½ seconds.

The other day at Cleveland McClary worked Star Pointer six miles, the last three being in 2:12½, 2:06½, 2:05½. The last quarter of the last mile was paced in 30 seconds.

Montee Salisbury is schooling a fast filly by Nutwood Wilkes, 2:10½, sire of Who is It, 3:12; John A. McKernan, 3:12½, etc., out of a sister of his former famous breeder, Little Albert, 2:10.

Shedd Wilkes, by J. R. Shedd, now racing in the east, where she has lately reduced her record from 2:24½ to 2:10½, is out of the Wedgewood mare, Isabella, who also produced the noted filly, Honoria Wilkes, 3:10½, sold to the Australians two seasons ago.—Horse Review.

THE ROYAL BOX.

King Humbert of Italy cannot sleep except upon a very hard bed. He dispenses with the use of pillows. He uses sheets of the very coarsest web and sleeps like a top.

Kaiser Wilhelm takes special delight in watching the battle given by his military officers. He likes to find fault with the awkwardness of the officers and reprimands them for some real or imaginary mistake at every opportunity.

The queen of Italy is considered the most highly educated queen in the world. She speaks, besides her own language, English, French, German and Spanish, and she delights in the study of theology, history, geography, botany and other difficult subjects.

The greatest dandy in Europe is Prince Albert of Thurn, Germany. He has a new suit every day, and it is perfumed with the costliest attar of roses. He has three neckties a day on the average, and his cast off boots number more than a hundred pairs annually.

The empress of Japan has privileges accorded to her which none of her predecessors ever enjoyed. She may eat at the same table with the emperor, who frequently consults her upon matters of state. She is a good horsewoman and exercises daily in her private gymnasium.

THE HONEY HUNTERS.

The best trees to set around the hive are fruit trees.

Heat does not damage honey, but tends to ripen and improve it. Darkness and darkness do not agree with it.

Honey improves with age. The older it is the finer the flavor. Extracted honey is easier kept than comb.

Fertile workers sometimes appear in queenless colonies, which amounts to about the same as drone producing queens. They will lay eggs but irregularly.

A virgin queen is useless while she remains thus. It often occurs that such queens will begin to lay eggs just the same as a fertilized queen, but all such eggs hatch to drone bees only.

Bees alior being molested at night. No work can be performed with them at that time with any satisfaction. They are always more peaceable when gathering honey and may then be readily handled.

Granulation improves the appearance of any quality of honey. It never fails to give a higher shade. It also has a tendency to drive away any wild taste and make a purer sweet, and the honey will keep better.—St. Louis Republic.

SUNSTROKE.

In case of sunstroke, the first thing to be done is to remove the clothing and get the sufferer into a cold bath—feet, if possible, and keep ice on the head until consciousness returns.

In heat exhaustion the skin is covered with a cold moisture. Use no cold applications, but give fresh air, using a fan, if necessary, and administer small and diluted doses of brandy or whiskey.

Every family should have a clinical thermometer as in a case of sunstroke the temperature of the patient must be carefully watched. When the temperature is reduced to 100 degrees F., cold water treatment may be discontinued.

THE CARE OF GEMS.

Coral may be washed with soap and water.

Jet must be repaired by means of jeweler's cement.

Turquoises must not be wetted and are liable to change color.

Opals must be kept from fire and heat, as a high temperature causes them liable to split and fall from their setting.

THE NURSERY.

Many women prefer cork carpets for the nursery floor.

When one wishes a child to sleep, she should never lay it on its back.

A delight for the baby will be found in one of those fantastically decorated crawling rugs.

The nursery should be the largest room in the house. A southern aspect is considered best. The walls should be artistically decorated in order to influence the children to appreciate artistic things.

Too late to begin.

"Why did you begin to teach that little girl to read when she was so young?"
"Oh, he said he'd never given away anything yet, and he was too old to begin!"—Chicago Post.

MATRON AND MAID.

Lady Rose Leigh, Lord Abercromby's daughter, can lift a 200 pound weight.

Mrs. D. Harry Hammer, a Chicago society woman, has a collection of 30,000 buttons.

Emma Goldman, the anarchist, vows that she will not stop fighting trusts, capitalists and governments until society is revolutionized.

Among saleswomen of New York Mrs. Richard Croker enjoys the reputation of being the kindest and most considerate shopper in that city.

Miss Kingsley, the explorer and traveler, was once the recipient of an embarrassing present—namely, 300 husbands, the gift of a savage chief.

Lady Walsley has been described as the best dressed woman in Europe. This verdict was passed by a French aristocrat in the Bois de Boulogne.

Mrs. DeLund, the Boston novelist, is a football enthusiast like her husband, the Harvard coach, and is a regular spectator at all the Cambridge games.

Mrs. Richard P. Blood is true to her late husband's memory. She wears suspended from her neck the first silver dollar coined under the Blood law.

Mrs. Thomas C. Platt is described as a most unostentatious woman, tall, matronly, with dark hair, verging on gray. She wears little jewelry, though she is the owner of some famous diamonds.

American woman though she is, the Duchess of Argyll, wife of the Spanish minister at Washington, looks almost as much of a Spaniard as her husband. She has a strong face, with large, dark eyes.

Miss Patti has been obliged to make a rule that she will never kiss anybody except her family and intimate friends.

After one of the concerts that she gave in New York no less than 3,000 ladies insisted on embracing her.

The Duchess of Marlborough has some strange pets in catalog at Blenheim. Eagles, vultures, an ibis and a garter snake are among the number. The last named was purchased by her grace on the banks of the Nile and is an especial favorite.

Ilott Green has a fancy for moving from place to place. She will stay a week in a hotel in New York city, then pack up all her belongings and go to some town in New Jersey, where she spends a week or two, as suddenly leaving that to return to New York.

Miss Rostand, wife of the author of "Cyrano de Bergerac," has a gift of her own for writing verses. Not long ago some of them were recited by Sarah Bernhardt at one of the matinees which Paris journals delight to give. Lady M. Rostand, Bernhardt's voice is of gold. If she but read a time table, it would sound like a poem.

CURTAIN RAISERS.

Dorothy Usher has a clipping bureau at work in London.

James Young will take up a play in which he is to act the part of the post boy.

Ita Conquest is to be the heroine of William Gillette's "Sherlock Holmes" drama.

H. B. Valentine has made a comedy out of his Pittsburgh papers, published some years ago.

William F. Owen will play Joe Sedley next season in Mrs. Fisk's production of "Becky Sharp."

Jeff De Angelis is said to be endeavoring to secure Della Fox for his leading lady next season.

Cissy Loftus has added the impersonation of an orchestra leader to her act, and she does over the footlights to demonstrate it practically.

H. A. Du Souchet is writing a new comedy on the style of "My Friend from India" that Hart and Simmons, the managers of his musical farces comedy, "An Easy Mark," will present late the coming season.

THE WRITERS.

Thomas Hardy built himself his present country house out of the profits of his first novel, "Desperate Remedies."

Rudyard Kipling says that the hardest work he ever did and the hardest he ever saw done is that of a newspaper office.

Asked by a reporter what he considered his greatest work, Anthony Hope recently replied, "It has never been written."

M. Edouard Rod, the French critic and author, is of a sensitive temperament. While watching one of Chicago's pet shows, the killing of huge in the stockyards there—he fainted at the sight of blood and slaughter.

W. W. Jacobs, the author of "Mary Carrows" and other amusing books, has been compelled to give up all work on account of ill health. When he is not writing books, he is a clerk in the bank department of the London general post office.

HOUSEHOLD SOAPS.

How to Make a Good Article at Very Small Expense.

A capital soap for housecleaning and clothes washing purposes is made in the following way: Procure a half pound tin of 95 per cent of caustic soda (which may be obtained from a grocer), which will cost about 12 cents, and put it in a large basin or other earthenware vessel containing one quart of cold water. By stirring it will instantly get very hot. Let it stand till cool. This is called "soda lye."

In a larger earthenware vessel melt three pounds of any kind of fat without salt, and for this purpose save all refuse fat or grease of any kind from the table, melted and the pure fat strained off.

Allow it to cool until it just begins to set, and then pour the soda lye into it in a continuous stream, stirring until it becomes like honey. Then pour the mixture into a wooden box capable of holding six pounds of soap. The box should previously be lined with a piece of damp calico. Well cover it up with a piece of old blanket and let it stand until next day in a cool place to set, when you will have six pounds of pure soap at a cost of about 12 cents for caustic soda plus the price of fat, which has the advantage of bleaching calico without injuring the fabric.

How to Clean White Goods.

Put half an ounce of salts of tartar into a bottle with half an ounce of sal ammoniac, add half a pint of warm water and shake the bottle until the salts and the sal ammoniac have dissolved. Stretch the stained portion of the fabric over a small basin and pour some of the liquid over it. If the stain has been recently made, it will soon disappear, but if the linen has already been washed it will probably be necessary to repeat the process several times, and the fabric should be very gently rubbed now and then. When the mark is no longer visible, rinse the linen at once in hot water and then wash it well with soft soap and hot water and let it dry in the sun.

How to Make Fish Pie.

Melt an ounce of butter or clarified dripping in a saucepan and cook with it the same quantity of flour for a few minutes, stirring the mixture all the time so that it may not change color. Add half of a small onion, sliced, a sprig of parsley and a small slice of fat bacon and let the ingredients fry for five minutes. Then pour in gradually rather more than half a pint of milk and stir until the sauce is smooth and thick. Season with salt pepper and a little grated nutmeg, let simmer for 15 minutes and pass through a fine strainer. Butter a pie dish and place in it a layer of cooked fish, divided into flakes, cover it with sauce, then add more fish and more sauce alternately until the dish is nearly full. Spread some well boiled rice, which has been mixed with a little butter, a tablespoonful of tomato sauce and seasoned with salt and pepper, over the top of the pie. Then scatter the rice thickly with browned crumbs, place some little pieces of butter on them and bake the pie in a hot oven for about 15 minutes.

How to Make Toast Relish.

Brown pieces of bread in the oven until very crisp. Break into inch pieces, and to two cupfuls pour over the following: Beat one cupful of milk to the boiling point. When it boils, stir into it a piece of butter the size of a walnut carefully mixed with one teaspoonful of flour. Stir until smooth. Season with a saltspoonful of salt and a dash of pepper. Cover all and let stand a moment. This is a very good way to utilize scraps of stale bread.

How to Make Potato Eggs.

Beat to a froth half a cupful of cream or rich milk and stir six eggs gently into the pan. Let them come to a boil, cover and remove to the back of the stove. Keep very hot for ten minutes. Just before serving, dust with salt and pepper and dot with bits of butter.

How to Cure a Head Shaking Horse.

In speaking of the peculiarities of the colt Linckrick, Ben Kenney told me that he cured him of the annoying habit of throwing his nose out and shaking his head by simply trimming all the long hairs out of his nostrils says a writer in the Horse Review. The wind blew the hairs back in his nose and tickled him so that he couldn't keep his head still. Kenney said that he believed long hairs in the nose were just what caused so many horses to shake their heads when trotting against the wind.

How to Make Spiced Beef.

Mince half beef, fat and all, rather fine. Add salt, pepper, minced cloves, a little thyme and some finely chopped parsley. Stir into this three whole eggs and some thick fresh cream. This may be baked in a border mold or in a round tin, with a cup set in the center to give the shape of a ring. Serve with tomatoes sliced up in the middle and any good thick sauce, according to taste.

How to Make Hot Pot.

Two and a half pounds of cold roast pork, potatoes, seasoning, stock. Put some slices of the pork in a deep, greased pie dish, sprinkle with pepper, salt, chopped onion and sweet herbs and then place a layer of sliced potatoes. Put in a few lumps of dripping here and there and repeat till all the meat is used. Cover the potatoes and bake in a moderate oven for 2½ hours.

How to Make Cheese Fondue.

Put one tablespoonful of butter in the chafing dish and when melted add one cup of fresh milk, one cup of fine bread crumbs, two cups of grated cheese, a saltspoonful of dry mustard and a dash of cayenne. Stir constantly and add just before serving two eggs beaten light.

How to Make Mushroom Sauce.

Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter and add two tablespoonfuls of flour, one-fourth teaspoonful of salt, a dash of pepper and half a cup each of chicken stock and cream. Add the beaten yolk of one egg and chopped mushrooms and let stand over hot water for five minutes.

DEATH ENDS A NOBLE LIFE.

MRS. SAMUEL HEILBRONER EXPIRES FROM DROPSY.

Passed Away This Morning at Her Home on Wayne Street—Other Mortuary Matters.

With no warning of its approach, death's shadow fell upon another Fort Wayne home early this morning and Mrs. Amelia Heilbronner, wife of Samuel Heilbronner, passed from earth. Mrs. Heilbronner was among the best known and most estimable residents of this city and the news of her demise will burden many hearts with deepest sorrow.

The end came at 1 o'clock and was entirely unexpected. For nearly two years Mrs. Heilbronner had been a sufferer from dropsy, and while her friends realized that complete recovery was impossible, no one suspected her death at this time. Recently she has shown signs of improvement and yesterday seemed to feel somewhat better than usual. A few minutes before 1 o'clock her condition suddenly took a turn for the worse. Her husband and daughter, Miss Carrie, were with her and administered remedies, but she did not rally and in a few minutes passed to the better world.

Mrs. Amelia (Mayer) Heilbronner was born in Hechingen, Germany, March 23, 1837, and came from a family very prominent in that section. She was a schoolmate of Mrs. A. Oppenheimer, of this city, and throughout their lives these ladies have been close friends. Mrs. Heilbronner came to America in 1856 and in the voyage across the ocean had a perilous experience. The vessel was wrecked near Newfoundland and for some days she, with other passengers, endured severe hardships. Landing at Philadelphia, she came to Fort Wayne a few months later and for several years made her home with Mr. and Mrs. A. Oppenheimer.

She was united in marriage to Samuel Heilbronner October 14, 1859, at Ansbach, and since that time has resided in Fort Wayne almost continuously. The children are Louis Heilbronner, of St. Louis; Mrs. M. N. Jacobs, of Pittsburgh; Mrs. Joseph Klopfer, of Dayton, and Miss Carrie Heilbronner. A sister, Mrs. Strauss, resides at Butler, and a brother and sister yet remain in Germany.

The thousands of warm friends who have known and esteemed Mrs. Heilbronner through the long period of her residence in Fort Wayne speak volumes for her true nobility and worth. She was a devout member of the Aethiopian Vespertine congregation of this city and her entire life was an effort to assist those around her. No service was too arduous, no sacrifice too great for Mrs. Heilbronner if by it some suffering could be relieved or somebody made happier. Her charity was given most bountifully, but without display. In this noble woman were combined to an unusual degree the refined attributes and elevating qualities that united make the highest type of wife, mother and friend. Her death will be widely and sincerely mourned.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon from the residence, 56 West Wayne street, at an hour to be announced later. The interment will be private. No flowers.

FISHER.

Gustave Fisher, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. William Fisher, died Sunday at the family home, 89 Maumee avenue, from spasms. The babe was one month old. Funeral services will be held from the residence Wednesday at 2 o'clock.

MILLVANE.

Miss Louise Millvane died Sunday from a complication of diseases at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Zwalhen, 52 Walnut street. Miss Millvane was thirty-six years of age, and possessed an unusually large circle of friends. Surviving here are the parents and three brothers and two sisters—William H. Millvane, Harry A. Zwalhen and Mrs. Charles Smeener, of this city; Frank Zwalhen, of Jersey City, N. J.; and Mrs. Lottie Redding, of New York. The late Mrs. John H. Diether was a sister.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 1:30 from the residence, and at 2 o'clock from Calvary U. B. church, conducted by Rev. J. W. Lake.

The pallbearers will be Henry Mollett, John Wagner, Jesse Braden, George Deppner, William Diether and Henry Menkensmeier.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Benson, well known people of Whitley county, died on the same day last March, owning 600 acres of land, and leaving no will. There are no children. The old people, however, had taken Gertrude Slessman, a niece, into their home.

THE REGENERATION OF JAPAN.

REV. FRANK TAKASUGI GIVES NATIVE TESTIMONY.

The New Civilization Began to Dawn When Commodore Perry Opened Way to Americans.

Rev. Frank Takasugi, a native minister from Hiroaki, Japan, addressed a large audience at the Wayne Street M. E. church, last evening on the subject of Christianity, and its influences in Japan. He said: "For the past 2,500 years, Japan has been governed by the same dynasty and during 2,100 years of that time, the Japanese have been heathen, have worshipped idols, snakes and other things. It was about 400 years ago that the first Christians arrived in Japan and they were Roman Catholics. The people at that period welcomed the white people to their shores, opened their homes to them and also opened an extensive commerce with them. The Catholic priests sent out to convert the Japanese, met with a great success and thousands of the people of Japan were made Christians."

The imperial government after a time became distrustful of the priests and afraid of the immense influence they had acquired and determined to banish them. Therefore an edict of banishment was issued against the priests, and the Japanese who had already been converted were warned to give up their religion or they would be crucified. Many did give up the Christian religion but there were also many who would not, and they perished for their Christian belief.

"My friends, that is why it was so hard for the Christian people of the early part of this century to get into Japan. The people thought that the Christians were trying to get hold of their government and for that reason Christians were forbidden the country. In 1854 the great Commodore Perry visited Japan for the purpose of making a treaty with that country and establishing a commerce between that people of Japan and the Americans. After much trouble, this end was accomplished and how thankful the Japanese people today are for that treaty. The good Christian missionaries of the protestant faith went among the people and won their hearts by their kind and loving ways, and by intercourse with the great nations of the world, Japan has been lifted from the darkness of Confucianism, Buddhism, Shintoism and other idolatrous faiths, till she is now one of the leading nations of the earth."

"Christian friends, I could enumerate many cases where the Japanese people have made great sacrifices for their Christian belief. There are many Christian Japanese who have occupied high positions in the government and who have enjoyed great wealth, who have sacrificed all, even life itself, that they might rescue their countrymen from the depths of idolatry. Japan is rapidly becoming a Christian nation and it will be a matter of but a few years until the government will be administered under Christian principles. Let the people of the United States remember that there are still, however, millions of the Japanese who have never heard the name of Christ and upon whom the light of Christianity has never shone. There is a big field for missionary work in the land of Japan, and a very few missionaries there in view of the amount of work to be done. If you cannot be a missionary yourself, you can do a great deal of missionary work by sending money to the Japanese missions that it may be used to further the great work and remember that even the smallest contribution sent to these missions will help to bring a benighted soul into the fold of Christ."

Rev. Takasugi has been in the United States for ten years and his preaching in different parts of the country has aroused great interest in Japanese missions. He has a perfect command of the English language, and is an exceptionally fine speaker. Mr. Takasugi expects to return to his home in Japan next year where he will engage in missionary work.

LITTLE TRADING IN WHEAT.

MARKET WAS FIRM AT THE OPENING.

Principal Transactions Were in the December Option—The General Markets.

Chicago, Aug. 28.—Wheat was firm today, the market showing but little increase in the volume of trading. A firm tone was shown by English markets, and Russian shipments which caused a weak spot in the market last week, were comparatively small, amounting to but 499,000 bushels. The world's shipments were even smaller than expected, the total being 5,739,000 bushels. There was some increase in the northwest receipts, as predicted, and this caused selling by the northwest and weakness in those markets, which was followed shortly after the opening here by a moderate amount of liquidation by longs and increased shorts selling.

Minneapolis and Duluth receipts were 309 cars, against 327 last week and 552 a year ago.

Chicago receipts were 116 cars, 23 of contract grade.

The weather was hot and dry in the northwest.

September opened 1 1/2% lower at 70 1/2, it declined to 70 1/4 and reacted to 70 3/4.

December, in which interest was centered, opened 3/4% higher at 72 1/2, declined to 72 1/4 and reacted to 72 3/4.

Corn was fairly active and weak for September, with the more distant options comparatively steady. The weather was favorable and there was a noticeable lack of demand, the prices slipping off easily on moderate selling by receiving houses.

Receipts were 519 cars. September opened unchanged at 31 1/2, declined to 31 1/4 and reacted to 31 3/4.

Offers were steady on a small trade. Outlets were light, and the light demand was sufficient to sustain prices. The export demand continued good.

Receipts were 510 cars. September opened unchanged at 20 1/2, sold at 20c and reacted to the opening price. Provisions were quiet but firm and the demand was fairly good and packers were buyers of all products. The hog market was higher. September pork opened unchanged at $8.25, sold at $8.30 and reacted to $8.27 1/2.

September lard opened unchanged at $5.17 1/2 and advanced to $5.20. September ribs opened unchanged at $5.15 and advanced to $5.17 1/2.

THE CLOSE.

Prices at the close were as follows: Wheat—Sept., 70 1/2; Dec., 72 3/4; May, 75c. Corn—Aug., 31 1/2; Sept., 31c; Oct., 30 1/2; Dec., 28 1/2; May, 29 1/2. Oats—Aug., 20 1/2; Sept., 20c; Oct., 20 1/2; Dec., 19 1/2; May, 21 1/2. Pork—Aug., $8.25; Sept., $8.25; Oct., $8.32 1/2; Dec., $8.37 1/2; Jan., $8.47 1/2. Ribs—Aug., $5.20; Sept., $5.20; Oct., $5.25; Dec., $5.25; Jan., $5.30. Lard—Aug., $5.25; Sept., $5.25; Oct., $5.32 1/2; Dec., $5.37 1/2; Jan., $5.47 1/2. Cash—W. W., $1.18; cash W. W., $1.11; Sept., $1.08 1/2; Oct., $1.08 1/2; Dec., $1.08.

DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Aug. 28.—The stock market ignored the heaviness in London and prices advanced at the opening. Gains in the railroads were fractional except Chicago Great Western B, which rose 1 1/2 and Hocking Valley preferred, 1 point. In the specialties American tobacco, sugar and Amoco each gained one. Consolidated gas made a violent break of 3 1/2.

Fluctuations in the standard stocks were slight. Notable advances were made in some of the minor stocks. Mobile and Ohio and Pacific Coast gained 1 1/2 each, Lacada gas rose 4 1/2. Irregularity prevailed in the leading specialties, sugar, Brooklyn transit and Manhattan rose 2 1/2 points. The tobaccos were strong, Continental preferred gaining 3 points. Consolidated gas rallied 2 1/2, but was feverish at the rise.

The railway list failed to derive any benefit from the strength and activity of some of the leading industrials. Sugar was pushed up 2 1/2 and the tobaccos moved steadily upward. Occasional displays of strength occurred in the railway division, Chicago Great Western being in great demand. American express lifted 3 points but investment shares generally were quiet. International paper dropped 3 and Colorado fuel 2. Sales to noon, 191,823 shares.

Bonds were strong, the rise of two points in Kansas and Texas 2s being the feature. Quite an active selling movement after 2 o'clock affected the industrials most acutely, declines running from 1 to 2 points. In the railway list only Atchison preferred, Reading first preferred and Oregon navigation lost over a point.

The market slowly hardened again. Republic steel rose an extreme 2 1/2, Minneapolis, St. Louis and Sault Ste Marie 2 1/2, and Evansville and Terre Haute preferred 3.

The closing was dull but firm at mixed net changes.

THE MONEY MARKET.

New York, Aug. 28.—Money on call nominally at 3 per cent.; prime mercantile paper, 4 1/2 per cent.; sterling exchange firm with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.83 1/2, for demand and at $4.83 1/2, for 60 days; posted rates, $4.81 and $4.87 1/2; commercial bills, $4.82 1/2; silver certificates, 60 1/2; bar silver, 59 9-16; Mexican dollars, 48c.

THE BOND MARKET.

New York, Aug. 28.—Government bonds strong. U. S. 2s registered, 103 1/2; U. S. 3s registered, 105 1/2; U. S. 3s coupon, 105 1/2; U. S. 4s registered (new), 130 1/2; U. S. 4s coupon (new), 130 1/2; U. S. 4s registered (old), 112 1/2; U. S. 4s coupon (old), 113 1/2; U. S. 5s registered, 111 1/2; U. S. 5s coupon, 111 1/2.

NEW YORK PRODUCE.

New York, Aug. 28.—Butter—Receipts, 11,303 pkgs; dull but steady; western creamery, 17 1/2; factory, 12 1/2.

Cheese—Receipts, 9,938 pkgs; firm; large white and colored, 10 1/2; small colored, 10 1/2; small white, 10 1/2.

Eggs—Receipts, 10,628 pkgs; firm; state and Pennsylvania, 17 1/2; loss off; western ungraded at the mark, 12 1/2.

Sugar—Raw, steady; fair refining, 3 15-16c; centrifugal, 96 test, 4 1/2c; molasses sugar, 3 13-16c; refined, steady; crushed, 5 13-16c; powdered, 5 1/2c; granulated, 5 5-16c.

Coffee—Dull.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

Chicago, Aug. 28.—Estimated receipts today, 26,000; tomorrow, 17,000; left over, 2,563; market strong; mixed and butchers, $4.30c; 4-80; good heavy, $4.50c; 4-70; rough heavy, $4.00c; 4-30; light, $4.50c; 4-90.

Cattle—Receipts, 10,500; market steady; beefs, $4.40c; 5-50; cows and heifers, $1.75c; 4-35; Texas steers, $3.00c; 4-25; stockers and feeders, $3.25c; 4-85.

Settling a Frozen Lake on Fire.

There is a lake in Kansas which, when frozen, can be set on fire. It is quite an easy matter, for one has only to make a hole in the ice and hold a lighted match to it to get a flame of five or six feet high, which will burn for a minute or two. The secret is simply that under the ice natural gas collects in the form of bubbles, and a skater can pierce one of these bubbles with a chisel and procure a beautiful blaze at which to warm himself. In some parts of the lake this warm gas is plentiful enough to prevent ice freezing. Donahue, as the lake is called, is in a bend of the Missouri, about four miles north of Atchison.

Bullet-Proof Canvas.

The latest bullet-proof canvas is made from France and is the invention of Mr. Thureau. Its essential features are a sheet of metal filed with an outer and inner lining (the composition of which is not stated), the whole appearing weighing less than eight pounds. According to good authority it was recently tested with a Mauser rifle, which was fired from a distance of about seventy yards. The bullet tore the front of the canvas and made an indentation in the metal plate, but did not penetrate it.

Germany and Nine.

The figure 9 has a peculiar connection with the career of the German emperor. His majesty is the ninth king of Prussia. He was born in the fifty-ninth year of the century, entered the army in 1859 and completed his university career in 1873. The dates of his birth and marriage, Jan. 27 and Feb. 27, both make nine if the figures 2 and 7 are added together.

CHEERFUL SACKCLOTH.

Some of the Interesting Features of Summer Fashions.
(Special Correspondence.)

New York, July 10.—Who would have ever imagined that burlaps would be classed among the materials for summer or any other gowns? Sackcloth and ashes in the elden times signified sorrow and grief. Now the ladies wear sackcloth. The ashes they get as a free gift from the ash cart men as they pass along the street. I imagine that these burlap-sack cloth drivers enjoy scattering the ashes promiscuously whenever they see a person coming along half way well dressed. They never seem to raise such clouds of the fine and penetrating stuff at any other time. And how sweetly they smile whenever they see any person pass to the leftward. That is the signal for the small scowling. Well, I have allowed myself some personal suffering to get the better of me. I started in to speak of the sudden fancy for burlaps as a dress material.

Burlaps is made of rough fiber and is woven loosely like sackcloth—in fact, it is sackcloth. It is generally in a natural color, between tan and lavender brown, just the color above all others to take

There are several difficulties in the way of making trusts effective, but the chief one is the tendency to coax all the available capital into them. As long as it is impossible to do this there can be no lead pipe chain on the consumer.—San Francisco Chronicle.

CHANGE OF AGENTS

THE PENNSYLVANIA MAKES SOME ALTERATIONS.

DODGE AND GRIFFIN RETIRE

AND OTHERS ARE PROMOTED IN THE RANKS.

THE FIREMEN BROTHERHOOD

ADDS OVER A SCORE OF NEW NAMES TO LIST.

The retirement of G. A. Dodge as agent of the Pennsylvania company at Valparaiso has resulted in a half-dozen changes in that branch of the company's service, all becoming effective next Friday. C. M. Mackay succeeds Mr. Dodge at Valparaiso, C. M. Woods succeeds Mr. Mackay at Columbia City and E. G. Stinebaugh takes the agency at Elida, vacated by Mr. Woods. F. P. Griffin, agent at Bourbon, Ind., has also retired from the service and his place will be taken by T. J. Twomey. Each change in location of agents is a promotion and is accompanied by a corresponding increase in salary.

TAPP SECURES CONTRACT.

A telegram Saturday evening from Chief Engineer Thomas Rodd to Herman W. Tapp informed the latter gentleman that he had been awarded the contract to build about seventy per cent. of the second track bridges on the western division of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago road. There are twenty-six bridges in all, some to be built entire and some to receive extensions. They lie on that portion of the road between Van Wert and Adams and Winslow and Wanatah.

DYNAMO SHIPMENTS.

The Fort Wayne Electric company made two important shipments today. One was the dynamo and material for a complete lighting plant at Muscogee, I. T., and the other was a car load of dynamo machinery to Coshocton, Ohio, where the plant is being enlarged.

THREE MEN INJURED.

There were three men injured in the Pittsburgh shops Saturday and today, though none of the injuries are serious. C. D. Nolan, machinist, had the little finger of his right hand skinned upon a stone while grinding a tool; J. F. Sarraquin, of the Smith shop, was struck in the breast by a crow bar while assisting to "pinch" along a car, and Charles Barnes, blacksmith, had the end of his right thumb mashed with a hammer.

MACHINISTS' FIELD DAY.

The employees of the Western Gun Construction company indulged in some athletic sports at Centerville park Saturday afternoon. There were races, ball games and bicycle events, followed and interspersed with music and refreshments. These events are monthly affairs and are always very enjoyable.

NEW SMOKE CONSUMER.

The Chicago and Rock Island company is making smoke consumers of all its passenger engines, much to the delight of passengers. The methods adopted are as follows: In the fire-box of the engine is built a hollow brick arch. Below this, and about a foot above the grates, are bored four holes in the sides of the fire-box. In each of these holes is inserted a Sharp's patent deflecting air tube, connecting with the hollow arch. Through these tubes the outside air is drawn in, and, after being heated, is allowed to mix with the unconsumed gases or hydrocarbons. By this mixing the gases are transformed into a perfect state of combustion and in this state they are consumed and thoroughly disposed of.

BENDING RESIGNS.

John H. Bending has resigned his position with the Bass company and will return to Findlay, where he will resume his old position. Mr. Bending has just returned from Falls River, Mass., where he erected a Bass engine.

WILL RETURN TO IRELAND.

James Wolfe, the young man who sustained a sunstroke while working in the yards adjacent to the Pittsburgh round house last June, will leave for Ireland, his native land, in a few days. The young man has not recovered entirely and it is believed the sea voyage and a sojourn in his native place will restore his health.

THE FIREMEN'S BROTHERHOOD.

Tonight C. W. Maier, third grand master of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, will finish his labors in Fort Wayne for the present. His visit here has been fruitful, resulting in a greatly increased membership of the local lodge and creating an interest that presages still further improvement in that line in the near future. Yesterday Mr. Maier addressed the Ladies' auxiliary and a large number of the wives of firemen whose husbands are not members of the brotherhood, and much good is expected to result from that meeting. Tonight the brotherhood will hold a short session, at which a number of new members will be given initiation, and then will follow a social session in honor of the distinguished visitor, in which the wives and families of the firemen will participate. Refreshments will be served. Mr. Maier will leave the city at 3 o'clock tomorrow morning.

SOLDIERS PASS THROUGH.

The trains bearing the Tenth Pennsylvania regiment passed through the city last evening, the first one at 7:25 and the last one at 12 o'clock. The only accident on the western division was the breaking of a draw bar at Monroeville and the delay of the first section one hour. There were three passenger and a baggage train. An account of the arrival of the troops at Pittsburgh is given in our telegraphic columns.

HAD A GOOD TIME.

The Wabash shopmen and their friends arrived home from Detroit Saturday night at 12:30, well pleased with the excursion. Lake Erie was in a pleasant mood in the morning and the ride to Detroit was one of the most pleasant features of the excursion. Later in the day, however, a stiff breeze arose and when the excursion party started home they found the lake quite "choppy." Many of the excursionists became sea-sick and eight or ten of them lost their hats by having them blown overboard. No other unpleasant incidents occurred and taken as a whole the excursion may be said to be a most pleasant event.

NEW ENGINES ARRIVING.

Engine No. 771 arrived here this morning and is now in the Wabash shops being "connected up" and put in shape for business. This is the first delivery from the Richmond Locomotive works upon the order for thirty or forty locomotives recently placed by the Wabash company. No. 771 is a freight engine of the "Ma-gull" pattern, having six drivers. Delivery of engines will now be rapid until the entire contract has been filled. The work of getting the engines ready for service will greatly increase the round house work and the men there employed will have no reason for complaint on account of idleness.

PACKARD PICNIC.

The picnic given by the employees of the Packard Organ company at Robison park Saturday was largely attended and was a huge success. A five inning ball game, played by the men in the finishing and the machine departments resulted in a victory for the finishers by a score of 5 to 4.

The tub race was won by Louis Scherer alone and he was awarded first prize for paddling across the river and back. The other contestants, John Scherer and L. Fegle, did not have the right kind of tubs, so they backed out.

Following is a list of the other events and their results:

Fat men's race, 100 feet—D. Gordon won; J. L. Vierwer second and G. Blondell third.
One-half mile bicycle race—Lee Yann, first; Roy Trainer, second; Ed Hudson third; time, 1:15.
One hundred yard dash—First run was a dead heat between Frank Castle, Cliff Moran and William Castle. The race was run over and the men finished as mentioned; time, 1:2 2-5.
One mile bicycle race—Ed Hudson, first; Roy Trainer, second; Lee Yann, third; time, 2:44.

Two mile bicycle race, handicap—Lee Hudson, first; Ed Hudson second; Roy Trainer, third; time, 5:55.

Bant race, one mile—P. Connelly, first; A. Simminger, second; Ed Castle, third; time, 12:58.

The City band furnished music during the afternoon, which added greatly to the pleasure of the day.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Captain Stoll accompanied the soldier trains to Pittsburgh.

Superintendent J. B. McKim, of the Pennsylvania, has gone to Denver, Col.

Clarence Sheeter began an apprenticeship in the Bass boiler shop this morning.

All the roads did a good business in the way of carrying Sunday excursionists yesterday.

Emil Such, of Rhinesmith & Simonson's lumber yards, was taken sick this morning and had to quit work.

Charles Clark and John Booley, of the Wabash shops, went to the company's hospital at Peru yesterday. Both are sick.

The Bass company shipped two large boilers today to the Pittsburgh Steel Hoop company, the first on an order for eight boilers.

Gus Hobrock and S. F. Hanna, who were injured some time ago, resumed work in the Pittsburgh machine shop this morning.

H. E. Overly is no longer an employee of the Wabash, having resigned his position in the boiler shop. It is said he has a better position in view.

A. Benedict resumed his place in the Pittsburgh machine shop this morning, after a week's absence with the scale car, testing the company's scales.

Cliff P. Barrett, traveling passenger agent of the Mexican National railroad, is in this territory getting ready for next winter's tourist business. He spent Sunday in the city.

William Rempis has taken a position with Siemens-Halske at Chicago and went up to that city yesterday. He will operate a steam punch in the factory. Mr. Rempis was formerly employed in the electric works in this city.

The three great expositions that are to be held within the next four years are located at points on the Wabash—the Pan-American exposition at Buffalo in 1901, the Ohio centennial in 1902 at Toledo and the world's fair in St. Louis in 1903.

The Wabash in all its advertising has three red stars on its maps designating these places.

John Rost, of the Pittsburgh blacksmith shop, is sick.

C. Walda, the cab builder, is sick.

He works for the Pittsburgh.

J. E. Smith, of the Pittsburgh shops, is visiting friends in Dixon, Ohio.

M. Gellert, a tinner, has gone to Lima, Ohio, to put a new roof upon the Pennsylvania passenger sheds.

F. J. Ryan, a machine operator, has taken a position in the Pittsburgh shops under Foreman E. Tagtmeyer.

John Fraime, of the Pittsburgh blacksmith shop, has returned from Marion, Ind., where he spent two weeks.

G. Reiber, who runs a wheel press in the Pittsburgh shops, is spending a week's vacation with friends in Chicago.

F. A. Weigand, a tinner in the Pittsburgh shops, has recovered from injuries received by his horse stepping upon his foot.

After being on the sick list one and two weeks respectively, Fred Ryan and J. A. Wise have resumed work in the Pittsburgh shops.

George Ebner, foreman of the Pittsburgh wreck crew, has taken a week's lay off. Next Wednesday his father and mother will celebrate their golden wedding and George has charge of the arrangements.

John Becker, trainmaster of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois, has resigned. It is stated that the relations between Mr. Becker and some of his superiors for some time have not been very pleasant, the trouble dating back to the strike on that road in 1894.

Herman Schultz, the contractor, was one of the losers by the flood of Friday night. He is engaged in digging an immense well, eight by twenty-eight feet, for the Bass works, and had attained a depth of fifteen feet. The water caused the banks to cave in.

Under the new pay schedule of the Big Four passenger engineers get $3.25 per 100 miles run and freight engineers $3.80 per 100 miles run. This is an advance on the old schedule of 5 cents per 100 miles run to freight engineers and 10 cents per 100 miles run to passenger engineers.

It was stated Saturday that the Missouri Pacific and the Wabash will meet the cut in packing house products to the southwest, announced by the Burlington to take effect on September 1. The Burlington threatens to wipe out the differential altogether if the terminal lines make any cut. A lively war seems unavoidable.

The American Car and Foundry company at Jeffersonville, Ind., is building some of the largest cars for general use ever constructed. There are two dining cars for the Southern railway that are seventy feet long, exclusive of the platforms. Each car has ten sills, making the bottoms almost solid. Two mail cars for the same road are sixty-five feet long and will weigh when completed 80,000 pounds. A sample furniture car being constructed is fifty feet long.

The Empire State express made a new record for itself on Wednesday between Syracuse and Buffalo, when engine 849, with the regular train of four cars, made the run in two hours and twenty minutes, including a stop at Rochester, an extra stop at East Buffalo and two slow-downs; distance, 149 miles. The run from Syracuse to Rochester, eighty-one miles, was made in seventy-one minutes, and from Rochester to Buffalo, sixty miles, in sixty minutes, including climbing the Byron hill. This is the fastest trip ever made on the western division.

WAS FOUND DEAD IN BED.

CHAS. BUSCH, OF NEW HAVEN, DIED SUDDENLY.

He Lived Alone in a Cottage—Had Anticipated Death—No Known Relatives.

Sunday afternoon Sheriff Melching received a telephone message from New Haven informing him that the dead body of Charles Busch had been found in a bed at his home, where he lived alone. The sheriff sent word to Deputy Coroner C. E. Barnett and then went to New Haven on the 8:30 Nickel Plate train.

Neighbors of Mr. Busch, who was seventy-five years old, saw him about the yard Saturday afternoon, but Sunday he was not seen and the cottage remained closed all day. Late in the afternoon an entrance was gained to the house and Busch was found dead in bed. His body was in a sitting posture at the head of the bed and there were indications that he had suffered intensely. On a chair near the bed were his best clothes and some clean linen, which had probably been brought out in preparation for the usual Sunday change of clothing.

Deputy Coroner Barnett says that death resulted from general debility caused by the ravages of old age. He had often made the statement that he might die suddenly and expressed no fear of meeting his Maker. Only last week he commenced the preparation of papers which would have made Peter Schinkel administrator of his affairs. In his New Haven home was found some notes, $69.73 in cash, a $200 certificate of deposit on the Hamilton bank and a contract for the purchase of a piece of property in this city from Mrs. Fredericka Josse, now Mrs. Jacob Hiser.

Mr. Busch lived in Fort Wayne for a number of years, but after the death of his wife in 1893 he moved to New Haven and has since resided there. The remains were taken in charge by the New Haven undertaker after having been viewed by Deputy Coroner Barnett.

Peter Schinkel was this morning appointed administrator of the estate and he will make the arrangements for the funeral.
